

FOUR AUGUST WEDDINGS

Three Take Place in This City Today and One Was Performed on Monday at Eau Claire.

VEDDER SHERMAN.

What promises to be one of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in Stevens Point will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Sherman, 1135 Clark street, at five o'clock this afternoon, when their oldest daughter, Miss Alta, will be united in marriage to Dr. James B. Vedder of Marshfield. The officiating clergyman is Rev. C. I. Andrews of Fond du Lac, an uncle of the bride. He will be assisted in tying the nuptial knot by Rev. B. F. Sanford of Ripon, an uncle of the groom, and Rev. John A. Stemen of this city. The groom's best man is C. W. Blanchard of Colby and Miss Helen Sherman will act as maid of honor. A pleasing feature will be the presence of a dozen young lady attendants, all of whom were fellow members with Miss Alta in a private social club here during their school days. The young ladies are Misses Margaret and Katherine Southwick, Marion Vosburgh, Mable Ennor, Buelah Nelson, Gladys Park, Geneva Hodson, Edith Hartwell, Mamie Huff, Winifred Shumway, Nina Ethel and Coye. Miss Nina Coye will also play the wedding march.

The bridal gown is a handsome creation of white satin trimmed with Russian embroidered net. Miss Helen Sherman's dress is of pink liberty satin and net trimmings. Both will carry shower bouquets of roses and sweet peas, Miss Alta's being of white and her sister's pink. Eleanor and Ruth Sherman, a sister and cousin of the bride, will perform the duties of flower girls.

The beauty of the Sherman home has been further enhanced by a profusion of cut flowers. The color scheme of the spacious hall and front parlor is yellow, nasturtiums being used largely. The dining room has been decorated with pink and white sweet peas.

Mrs. P. J. Kellar is caterer for the supper and she will be assisted in serving by Mesdames Alexander Krems, Jr., O. Parmeter, P. B. Rivers, C. F. Raymond, A. M. Nelson, C. D. McFarland, John W. Glennon, J. A. Slothower, J. A. Ennor, Misses Fannie Sawyer and Anna Slothower. Handsome place cards have been painted by Miss Rene Sherman.

The guests from a distance include Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Vedder, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Upham and two sons Ralph and Charles, Mrs. Sarah Upham and Mrs. C. A. Hamilton of Marshfield, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Vedder of Edgar, Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Sanford and Miss Frances Sanford of Ripon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vedder of Waukesha, Mrs. A. O. Soule and son Lawrence of Minneapolis, Mrs. Arthur J. Kohler, Rev. and Mrs. C. I. Andrews and son Lawrence of Fond du Lac, Mrs. J. A. Versen of Waupaca, Mrs. F. A. Richmond of Dancy, Miss Vinnie Lewitt of Oshkosh.

The doctor and his bride will leave in the 1:30 train tonight for some unknown destination in northern Wisconsin, but it is believed that they will spend about ten days at lake resorts in that section. A new home at Marshfield is completely furnished for their occupancy and they will immediately go to housekeeping upon their return.

Miss Alta is one of Stevens Point's best and truest young women. She is a graduate of the Normal full course, class of 1905, and for the past four years has been one of the most capable teachers in the Marshfield city schools. While a student at the local school she took a prominent part in oratorical events and had the distinction of representing the state institution at the inter-normal contest in Milwaukee, where she received first place and represented Wisconsin schools at the interstate meeting a few weeks later. Besides being the possessor of an unusually bright mind and happy disposition, he is also a strikingly handsome girl and will prove a welcome addition to Marshfield's social circles.

The groom is engaged in the general practice of medicine at Marshfield, having more than a local reputation, being especially proficient in surgery. Personally and socially Dr. Vedder is a fine fellow, one entitled to the good things of life. That he and his bride may enjoy many happy years of wedded bliss is the sincere wish of all who know both or either of them.

YACKEL COWLES.

Miss Villa L. Cowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cowles, will be married at 8:30 o'clock this evening to Dr. Edward W. Yackel, a prominent young dental surgeon of Tomah. The ceremony will take place at the bride's home, 815 Ellis street, and will be performed by Rev. John A. Stemen, pastor of the Presbyterian church. There will be no attendants. Dr. Yackel and Miss Cowles will stand beneath a wedding bell decorated with lilies. The bridal gown is of white silk swiss over black chiffon and she will carry a bouquet of white bride roses. The front parlor will be decorated with sweet peas and ferns and the color scheme of the dining room is yellow and white, most of the flowers used being nasturtiums and golden glow.

Edith Cowles, a sister of the bride, will play the wedding march and later in the evening Harry Cowles will entertain the guests with several solos.

After the usual felicitations are extended to the happy couple, the guests will partake of a three course dinner prepared by Mrs. P. J. Kellar and served by Misses Lillian Pitcher, Grace and Bernice Cauley.

go to housekeeping in a completely furnished home.

Among the guests here from a distance are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yackel, Miss Lillian Yackel, Alva McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Elleson of Tomah, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll of Glidden, Harry Cowles of Ladysmith, Miss Laura Boyce of Waupaca, Misses Jennie and Eva Owen of Portage, O. J. Mills of Grand Rapids, W. E. McNeel of Kilbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fleishbein, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gordon of Glidden, E. N. Brett and family of Chicago, Mr. Cowles, father of the bride, is now on a homestead in North Dakota and will be unable to come.

The bride, who is a graduate from the Stevens Point Normal elementary course, has been a teacher in the schools of Tomah during the past year. She is a charming young lady and numerous friends in this city sincerely congratulate the groom on his choice of a bride.

Dr. Yacker graduated from a Chicago dental college four years ago and has since been practicing his profession in his home city. He is a fine appearing gentleman and made a very favorable impression upon all whom he met during frequent visits here.

GERDE KAMROWSKI.

Miss Rose Kamrowski, of this city, and L. E. Gerde, of Eau Claire, were married at 8 o'clock Monday morning, the witnesses being the brothers and sisters of the bride, Frank of Minneapolis, Felix of Racine, Miss Stella of Milwaukee, and Miss Mary Kamrowski of Hutchinson, Minn. Among the intimate friends of the bride present were Miss May Fuller, of this city, and Miss Ruth Finney, of North Fond du Lac. A reception and dinner followed at the new home of the young couple at Eau Claire.

The bride is a daughter of Felix Kamrowski, a local undertaker, is a graduate of the Stevens Point High school, class of '02, and also of the Stevens Point Business College, having been engaged in teaching in the college here and at Eau Claire since her graduation. She is a young lady of ability and worth, and the groom, who is district manager for the International Correspondence schools and a young man of push and character, is indeed fortunate in his selection of a life partner.

KOSTKA-LETARSKI.

At St. Peter's Catholic church at 9 o'clock this forenoon, Rev. L. J. Pescinski performed the ceremony uniting in holy bonds of matrimony Joseph Kostka and Miss Helen Johanna Letarski. The ceremony was followed by a nuptial mass and was attended by the relatives and many friends of the contracting parties. Miss Helen Fierek and John Letarski acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen, respectively, and Miss Bertha Letarski as maid of honor, while Leon Kostka, of Bevent, and Blazie Kryger were ushers. The bride was attired in white messaline, princess style, wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The gowns of the maid of honor and bridesmaid were blue and pink banzai silk, respectively, and they carried pink roses.

The groom is a son of John Kostka of Bevent and has made his home in this city and at Wausau for the past few years. He is a young man of good character and industry and is deserving of the many friendships that he enjoys. The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Letarski, 515 Normal avenue, and this city has been her home all her life, she having assisted in the establishment of her father, who is a well known tailor, as well as being a competent help to her mother in household duties. Mr. and Mrs. Kostka will remain here for a couple of weeks, at the end of which time they expect to remove to Wausau to reside.

Relatives present from outside the city are John and Leon Kostka, Simon Levandowski and wife of Bevent, Emanuel Gillespie, wife and children, Frank Kostka, wife and children of Wausau, Thos. Melanowski and wife of Arnot, Anton Melanowski and wife of Pike Lake, John Marchel and daughter, Miss Ellen, of Dancy, Mrs. Kropodowski and daughter, Miss Mary, of Ironwood and Miss Lillian Barnowski of Hatley.

A reception to the relatives and immediate friends is being held at the home of the bride's parents on Normal avenue today and this evening, together with the serving of sumptuous wedding repasts.

Base Ball Thursday and Sunday.

Thursday of this week patrons of the game will have an opportunity of seeing a baseball game with ladies as the opponents of the locals. The Chicago ladies' baseball team will play here and come highly touted as wonders. Game called at 3:30. General admission, 25 cents; grandstand, 15 cents.

Sunday, August 22d, the Railroad Men's team from North Fond du Lac comes here for a game. They have some real stars, including several men who have tried out with the Fond du Lac state league team. Some former Stevens Pointers are also included in the lineup. Don't miss it. Game called at 3 o'clock sharp. Admission 25 cents.

Drainage District Bonds.

The Portage County Drainage district commissioners, in response to advertisements, received four bids on Monday to take their issue of $100,000 worth of bonds, the following firms being the bidders: Trowbridge & Niver, Chicago; Thos. J. Bolger & Co., Chicago; Keene & Co., Chicago; Otis & Hughes, Cleveland. The bids ranged 95 to 101 per cent. The two lowest were rejected by the committee and the others were retained or accepted, awaiting posting of forfeit. The commissioners will hold another meeting next Tuesday.

ARE BACK FROM THE WEST

Some Who Went Have Returned, and Others Will Remain or Go There to Locate in the Near Future.

John H. Campbell, sons Ernest and Vernie, and daughter, Mrs. J. D. Scott, returned from their western trip last Thursday. Mr. Scott remained at Kalispell, where he secured a position as sawyer in a large mill, and his family will join him as soon as they can dispose of their interests at Antigo, where they have been residing during the past few years. Mr. Campbell has two sons, Damon and Aaron, at Kalispell, and both are well pleased with the country. Jas. Coats, a resident of this section in years gone by, is now a prosperous lumberman at Deming, Wash., where at present he is engaged in the erection of a saw mill to cut about 80,000,000 feet of standing timber that he owns.

John Dawson and Ray Leary, who accompanied the Portage county delegation on its reservation prospective tour to the far west, about four weeks ago, have returned. They went as far as Portland, stopping at Kalispell, Spokane, Seattle, and other points of interest, and Mr. Dawson was so favorably impressed with the country that he practically closed negotiations for the purchase of an $18,000 farm, and which is located near Kalispell.

To Be Married Tomorrow.

Andrew Timm and Miss Emma Rickman, both of the town of Grant, will be married by Rev. A. Krusche at their home tomorrow. The groom is a brother of Clerk of the Court F. H. Timm of this city and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rickman of Grant. Mr. Rickman having served as chairman or clerk of his town for a number of years.

Manual Training Teacher.

Prof. L. A. Flagler, Eau Claire, has been engaged for the new department of manual training in the Normal school. Mr. Flagler is a graduate of the Eau Claire High school, has attended Beloit and Ripon colleges, and has secured his technical training through apprenticeship in trades, supplemented by courses of study taken at Stout Institute, Menomonee, Bradley Polytechnic School, Peoria, Ill., and Lewis Institute, Chicago, and is in practice and theory thoroughly conversant with all lines of manual training work. He has had teaching experience as assistant manual training teacher in the Eau Claire High school and as supervisor of manual training in the schools of East Chicago, Ind., Marquette, Mich., and Peoria, Ill. Mr. Flagler impresses one as a man of high ideals, sterling character, strong personality, and of exceptional ability in his chosen line of work. Under his administration this important department in the Normal school will undoubtedly prosper.

FIVE MILES SHORTER ROAD

Proposed Bridge Across Little Eau Claire Would Greatly Lessen Distance for Northern Farmers.

T. J. Anders, C. E. Van Hecke, E. McGlathlin, S. H. Worzalla, H. H. Pagel, N. M. Urbanowski, W. F. Owen, T. H. Hanna, S. S. Booth and C. E. Shortell composed the members of an automobile party which spent a portion of Tuesday in the town of Dewey, near the line of Marathon county. They went up to interview the farmers in that neighborhood in regard to having a 50-foot bridge built across the Little Eau Claire river, to connect with a road leading to this city and which would shorten the distance between the settlement at and near Ashley and Stevens Point fully five miles.

The present distance by wagon road between the two places is seventeen miles, residents being compelled at present to travel almost due west three or four miles and thence in a southeasterly direction the balance of the way. Practically the entire distance is over sandy roads. By building a bridge at the place indicated will shorten the drive to a fraction over twelve miles, of which seven miles is a hard clay road in good condition at all seasons of the year.

The question might be asked: "Why doesn't the town of Dewey build this bridge?" The township officials reply that the stream crosses the extreme northwest portion of their territory and would be of no direct benefit to their people. Because the bridge is to be located in Dewey, the towns north of there don't feel called upon to take official action.

It is then up to the farmers directly benefited and the business men of Stevens Point to get busy. One result of yesterday's trip by the automobilists is that a subscription paper is being circulated about town and up to noon today the sum of $230 was subscribed. This will be increased to at least $300 by this evening. The bridge is estimated to cost about $500 and it is anticipated that the entire amount will be collected within a few days. Much trade that now goes to Knowlton and other northern towns will come to Stevens Point when the shorter route is opened.

Were Married Monday.

Gustav Seidler and Miss Anna Stroik, both of this city, were married by Judge Murat, on Monday, and will continue to make Stevens Point their home. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Seidler, who reside on Normal avenue, and is a brick and stone mason by trade. The bride has been employed as first cook at Hotel Denver for some time.

THOUSANDS IN PURSES

Three Thousand Six Hundred Dollars in Purses for Harness Events at the Stevens Point Fair.

The large prizes held up for the races at the Stevens Point Fair, to be held Sept. 7th to 10th, inclusive, are going to bring a larger string of horses here than have ever been entered in the past. The fact that the track is in fine condition will make the races fast and exciting and the interest of our citizens having warmed perceptibly toward our steady growing fair, has caused the fair management to try and exceed anything ever attempted here in that line in the past. The proof of this can be ascertained by coming to Stevens Point on the above dates and seeing the fair and witnessing the races, and when you come you will be greatly surprised at the steady growth of the Stevens Point fair during the past four years. The speed program will consist of 2:10; 2:15; 2:19; 2:23 and 2:30 trotting races; 2:15; 2:20 and 2:30 trotting races and a free-for-all, each for a purse of $400.

The track and grounds will be lighted with electricity and there will be a program of running races to be held at night, making this the most spectacular race event ever witnessed in Wisconsin, a sight you cannot see at the fairs not in the state fair class. Owing to the liberality of our local lighting corporation, the great expense of lighting and preparing the grounds for the night fair has been greatly reduced, thus enabling the management to introduce a program that will prove as interesting as it is unusual.

City Sewer Work.

Because of the use of poor cement when it was originally constructed, Street Commissioner Lukasavig has had the difficult and disagreeable task of relaying three lengths of the sanitary sewer on Division street, near the intersection of Spruce street. What is known as the "peep hole" or upright pipe was not properly cemented to the main sewer and fell into the larger pipe, blocking the flow of sewage. It is possible that other portions of the sewer will have to be re-cemented.

Contractor Thos. E. Cauley will finish the Church street sewer next Friday afternoon, from present indications. The board of public works has instructed Mr. Cauley to extend the pipe across Division street at its intersection with Church and thence to the drinking fountain in the triangle of these two streets a distance of about 150 feet.

Drawing of Indian Lands.

The drawing of the western Indian reservation lands, in which several hundred thousand people in this country were interested, including a large number from this city and county, are nearly at an end. In the Flathead drawing at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, in which there were 6,000 claims, Watler C. Betts, of McDill, secured No. 960, and several were fortunate in getting desirable numbers as follows: Mrs. Katherine Moffitt, 1,294; S. G. Stoddard, 2,170; C. L. Rogers, 3,957; Frank A. Love, 5,097. Jas. K. P. Hubbard, of Wausau, a former resident of this city, secured No. 3,415; Lewis Lewison, of Amherst, got 1,823; Henry W. Nicholas, of Plainfield, 2,040; and Victor Larson, of Merrill, 2,867. In the Spokane reservation, which drawing took place on Monday, and in which there are but 1,000 claims open to settlement, nearly 100,000 persons were registered. A few Wisconsin people secured numbers, Geo. H. Hamilton, of Merrill, getting 191.

The Flathead reservation contains much valuable timber land, as well as farming lands, and while the Indians will be recognized first by the government in the distribution, no doubt most of those mentioned will be well paid for their trouble and expense.

Voice From the West.

Jas. E. Leary, of Libby, Mont., who spent a part of last week visiting among old scenes in the town of Stockton, the home of his boyhood, has met with good success in the lumber business in the far west, where he is in company with Dennis E. Dawson, another former resident of Stockton. Messrs. Leary and Dawson went to Libby from Merrill, this state, and there are 133 former residents of the latter place there as well as a number of former Stevens Pointers. He says it is cheaper to log there than in Wisconsin, it costing them an average of $2.24 to get logs cut and loaded on the cars, ready to ship to their mill, but living rates are somewhat higher than here, while some employees and workmen demand and secure higher wages than in Wisconsin.

Badly Burned by Gas.

Victoria Hoppa, of Mill Creek, who is employed as a domestic by Mrs. Geo. A. Sutherland at the jail residence, met with an accident last Sunday morning at about 11 o'clock, which proved fortunate, to say the least. The girl put a roast in the oven and supposed she lighted one of the burners. Soon thereafter she ignited a burner on the top of the stove and detecting the odor of gas, opened the oven door when a sheet of flame shot out and set her hair on fire and burned off her eyebrows and eyelashes. The girl threw her apron over her head and with the assistance of Mr. Sutherland succeeded in smothering the flames. The cause of the explosion was the fact that the oven burner had not been lighted, as she supposed it was, and when the oven door was opened the flames from the upper burner communicated with the gas that had accumulated in the oven.

Mill Machinery for Panama.

W. B. Baker left here last night for Peoria, Ill., to consult with John Reton and other officers of the Panama American Land and Lumber Co. about superintending the dismantling of a saw mill in West Virginia. The Panama concern has bought the machinery of a mill which had been in operation only two years. That portion in need of overhauling will be shipped to Michigan for repairs and the balance sent direct to the Isthmus of Panama. Should satisfactory arrangements be made, Mr. Baker will be in the south two or three months.

Going to Redgranite.

Rev. Casimir Shippy, who celebrated his first mass at St. Peter's church in this city one week ago last Sunday, will take charge of a couple of congregations in Waukesha county, at Wautoma and Redgranite. Just where the young clergyman will make his headquarters has not been determined, as both places are without a church or parish house and the work of organization and building will devolve upon Father Shippy. There are, however, a number of Catholics in both places, as well as in their vicinity, who will assist in the good work.

Sewer is All Right.

F. E. Halladay, of Plover, county surveyor, in company with M. E. Bruce, of the board of education, made a survey of the ground leading from the 4th ward public school to the sewer on N. Second street, last Saturday, as per action of the board, and finds that there is a fall of about seven feet from the school east on Franklin street to the sewer. The sewer would come within about three and one-half feet from the surface at West street, but there would be no danger from freezing. According to Mr. Halladay's contention, the city need not hesitate about making the connections asked for by the school board.

Will Locate at Stanley.

Dr. Gareld B. Jensen left here Tuesday morning for Stanley, where he will locate for the practice of dentistry. Dr. Jensen has purchased the business and office outfit belonging to Dr. E. F. Burns, another former Portage county resident, who has decided to retire on account of ill health. The latter will continue as a director of the state bank at Stanley and is also financially interested in other banks in that part of the state. Dr. Gareld is a graduate of the Chicago University Dental College and also passed the difficult examinations prescribed by the boards of examiners in Illinois and Wisconsin. He is therefore well equipped in a professional way and will prove to be a good citizen of that enterprising town.

Chas. F. Hass Company.

Beginning Sept. 1st the name of the Stevens Point Economy Store at 1017 Division street will be eliminated and the business will in future be run under the title of Chas. F. Hass Co. The head of this new concern, Chas. F. Hass, has been in business at the South Side for several years, starting on a small scale and now carries a large and well selected stock. They have about closed a lease for the vacant store building in the same block at No. 1019 and will use the large room for the storage and display of wall paper. A contract has been closed for the Wisconsin agency for the Phoenix Wall Paper mills of this city, and as the local mill is turning out an exceptionally fine grade of goods, the paper will have a ready sale. The Hass Co. also expect to largely increase their present line of books and stationery.

THREE THOUSAND PEOPLE

That Number Greeted Fazakerley Last Night at Corner of Pine and Brawley Streets.

The first night of Fazakerley's free lecture and entertainment was well attended. Fully 3,000 people were on the lot, corner Pine and Brawley streets. Tuesday night, and were fully recompensed for the time spent. The entertainment was opened by the Union band of Stevens Point, which rendered several selections, followed by the opening piece of the vaudeville company, after which Fazakerley gave one of his lectures upon the afflictions of the human body. There is no doubt as to the ability of the young man to hold and interest his audience.

The remarks heard from those standing around were those which tend to show that his assertions are proven and undoubtedly he will leave the city with many friends for himself, as well as his medicine.

An entire change of program was announced for tonight, an interesting feature being the boys' flour contest. The office at 215 Pine street will be kept open daily from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4. Consultation, examination and advice given free to all who care to call, by the eminent specialist, Dr. E. M. Barnett.

Barn and Contents Burned.

A barn on the farm of Alex Schuler, near Arnot, was destroyed by fire at an early hour last Saturday morning, together with the entire contents, consisting of hay, harnesses, etc., as well as two horses, one being burned to death and the other so badly injured that it was killed. In addition to this the barn contained the material for a patent silo bargained for from J. A. Werachowski & Co., of Arnot, but which had not been set up or put in place. The barn and original contents were insured with Thos. Riley, of this city.

POPULAR MAN SUMMONED

John McGivern, Former Chief of Police of This City, Dies Suddenly at North Fond du Lac Home.

Friends in Stevens Point were shocked, last Saturday, to learn that John McGivern, the popular hotel proprietor of the same name at North Fond du Lac, had died that morning at his home, a telegram to that effect being received by Mayor Cashin. A lifelong acquaintance and associate of the deceased. It had been known for some time that Mr. McGivern was not in the enjoyment of good health, but few knew that his condition was as serious as it really was. About seven years ago he was ill for some time with typhoid fever, being near to death's door, but recovered. Since then he had suffered from gall stones and other troubles, being operated upon twice, but for the past year had been a victim of Bright's disease. He visited Stevens Point a few weeks ago, and had been about as usual each day, but it was apparent to those who saw him most, including his faithful wife, that he was growing weaker, and for a couple of weeks past he had several attacks from weakness. While sitting on the porch at his hotel between 3 and 10 o'clock Friday evening he was stricken with apoplexy and had to be assisted to his room, being unable to speak from the start and passed away at 4:30 o'clock the next morning, surrounded by his family and other friends, his pastor and physicians also being present to the last.

John McGivern was born in the town of Brookfield, Waukesha county, and would have been 59 years old on the 6th of next February. He was married at Granville, Milwaukee county, in 1879, to Miss Mary Daly, who survives him, together with two sons and four daughters, Mayme, William, Zita, Katherine, Florence and John, the youngest 8 years of age. After their marriage they resided for a couple of years at Cedarburg, for five years at Marshfield, and then went to Waukesha, where they remained a few months, coming to Stevens Point 22 years ago next month. During his residence here Mr. McGivern was landlord of the Park Hotel, South Side, which property he still owned at the time of his death, and also served as chief of police for two years during Mayor Cashin's previous administrations, and in which official position he was both competent, faithful and efficient, being ever desirous of doing his whole duty in the most satisfactory manner, and consequently made and retained many warm personal friends.

Seven years ago on the 12th of this month Mr. McGivern moved to North Fond du Lac, where he engaged in the hotel business, occupying a three story, well furnished building, with all modern improvements, including steam heat, gas and water, and which was open night and day for the accommodation of his extensive railroad patronage. Three brothers, Michael of Marshfield, James of Brookfield, and Andrew of North Fond du Lac, and three sisters, Mesdames Considine, Sullivan and Davitt, all of Milwaukee, also survive. The deceased gentleman had very many friends in Stevens Point and elsewhere, all of whom admired him for his strict integrity, unquestioned honesty and open-hearted, frank and generous disposition. He was a man who always endeavored to do right in both public and private life, was a devoted husband, a kind father, true friend, good neighbor and citizen, and all who knew him extend sympathy to the bereaved widow and orphans.

The funeral took place from the Catholic church at North Fond du Lac at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Collins officiating, the remains being interred in the Catholic cemetery at Fond du Lac. The procession was nearly a mile in length, the largest ever seen in the village, and the church was filled to the doors. Father Collins paid a deserved tribute to the memory of the deceased as a christian husband and father and a public-spirited citizen. The pallbearers were Jas. F. Lawler, Dr. Blewett, Martin Murray, John McGowan, of North Fond du Lac, and P. H. Cashin and E. D. Glennon, of Stevens Point, the latter representing the Elks and Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, to both of which orders the deceased belonged in this city. Mrs. Cashin was also present from this city, and many relatives were in attendance from other places, including all mentioned above. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, the Elks sending one from here.

Picnic Next Sunday.

A basket picnic is announced to be given at Lake Emily and the county poor farm next Sunday, Aug. 22d, with a ball game at 3 o'clock in the afternoon between Nelsonville and the Stevens Point Athletics. An especial invitation is extended to members of the county board, as well as town, village, city and county officers, and all who attend are requested to bring their eatables.

Cement Block Residence.

The first cement block residence in the town of Carson, and possibly the only one in Portage county, is now being constructed on the farm of John F. Pleet, about four and one-half miles northwest of the city. The main part is 32x30 feet with a kitchen 25x20 ft. The house will contain a full basement and nine living rooms and will be heated by a hot air system. It will be supplied with bathroom, closets and electric lights. Power for the lights will be supplied by an engine and dynamo which Mr. Pleet intends purchasing. This farm comprises 200 acres of excellent land, the crops on which are unusually bountiful this season.

Local News Notes.

CATARRH which poisons the breath, stomach and lungs and paves the way for consumption, also Throat, Liver, Heart and all constitutional and internal troubles; also Rheumatism, Piles, Eczema, Dermatitis, and all diseases of the skin and blood, are treated far in advance of any institution in the country.

BLOOD AND SKIN Diseases, Pimples, Scrofula, Turners, Tetter and Lepra are eradicated, leaving the system in a strong, pure and healthy state.

WRITE your troubles if living away from home. The name is sent at home by express and medicine sent as directed. Absolute secrecy in all professional dealings. Address all letters, giving street and number, plainly.

Edwin Meyer, of Chicago, arrived in the city last Thursday for a visit with his young friends, George and John Crumney, at Webster.

Miss Fannie Congdon, who had been a guest at the home of her brother, J. R. Congdon, on Division street, for several days, returned to her home at Delavan last Thursday.

Peter Trierweiler, Jr., horse shoeing, general blacksmithing and all kinds of wood working. Special attention given to all work. Replacing and putting on rubber tires. Brick shop, 308 Clark street.

Miss Lizzie Rait, of San Antonio, Texas, is visiting with her sister, Miss Agnes, in this city, the latter having returned after spending several weeks selling educational works in the southern part of the state.

J. C. Enright, of St. Cloud, Minn., spent the last three days of the week in Stevens Point on business. Mr. Enright is president of the Farmers Milling Co., of that city, and also the Melrose Milling Co., at Melrose, Minn.

H. J. Kankrud, superintendent at the county poor farm, transacted business in the city last Thursday. Seventeen persons are now being cared for at the farm, six women and eleven men, the youngest about 60 and the oldest 100 years.

F. P. Garland, W. Frances Corby and Jas. W. Crane, of Chicago, spent last Thursday night in Stevens Point while on their way south by boat. The young men were enjoying an outing of several days, starting at Wausau, and intended to go as far as Prairie du Chien. Mr. Crane is a member of Capt. Powers Truck No. 6, Chicago.

Frank W. Shepard, a prosperous lumber merchant at Minneapolis, spent part of last week with his parents in this city. He was accompanied home Thursday morning by his mother, Mrs. Wm. B. Shepard, who will make an extended visit with her son. The venerable lady was dangerously ill for several weeks, but she is now slowly regaining her health and strength.

Clerk of Court Timm and wife have returned from their visit to Milwaukee, where they spent several days visiting his brother and enjoying the home coming. Mr. Timm attended the state convention of circuit court clerks, and was made a member of a special standing committee. An effort will be made to have the legislature pass a law fixing the term of that office four years instead of two, and it would be a wise change.

I treat Rheumatism, Enlarged Veins, Fistula, Piles and Other Rectal Diseases and Lingering Ailments.

I MAKE NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION, whether you take treatment or not.

I want everyone afflicted to come to my office, where I will explain to him my method of curing these diseases. I invite in particular those who have become dissatisfied with treatment elsewhere. I will explain to you why you have not been cured, and will demonstrate to your entire satisfaction why I can cure you safely, quickly and permanently. MY COUNSEL WILL COST YOU NOTHING, BUT MY CHARGES FOR A PERFECT CURE WILL BE REASONABLE AND NOT MORE THAN YOU WILL BE WILLING TO PAY FOR THE BENEFITS CONFERRED. I WILL DO BY YOU AS I WOULD WANT YOU TO DO BY ME IF OUR CASES WERE REVERSED.

LADIES If you are suffering from persistent Headache, Pains in Back and feet as if it were impossible for you to endure your troubles, and still be obliged to attend to your household and social obligations, give the Doctor a call. He will cure you if you trust yourself to his care. And many have taken treatment of this Specialist, and he can refer you to those who have been cured by him.

The pencils recommended are either the Dixon, the Eagle or the Faber. The medium pencils will be demanded for most work.

All dealers are asked to keep in stock the tablets, pencils, pens, etc., which are called for in this list, and thus aid the schools to be more efficient.

It will be best in most cases for parents not to purchase material until after the organization of school. Text books can be purchased at any time provided it is known in what grade the student will be.

Plain straight penholders are recommended for use in all the grades.

Parents are urged to send their children on the first day of school. Children of the first grade who do not enter school during the first month will not be allowed to enter school until the beginning of the second semester.

The office of the superintendent of the city schools will be open for consultation with students, or their parents or guardians, concerning their work next year, Aug. 23 to 27. Office hours 9 to 12 a. m., and 1:30 to 3 p. m.

The Marshfield Fair.

The seventh annual Central Wisconsin State Fair, to be held at Marshfield, August 24 to 27, promises a rich treat for the people of this section. The officers of this society are doing everything in their power to make it an agricultural show worth coming to see, as well as one full of high class attractions. They are competent and enthusiastic workers, and with but one object in view, the making of the best fair ever held there, are working in harmony. In addition to several high class free attractions such as the daring act, "Loop the Loop," head and hand balancers and comical trick house performers, midway will be lined with good tented shows. Fifteen horses are now in training at the track, the fastest 2:20, and with many others to come insure a race meeting of unusual interest.

IN MEMORIAM.

An account of the drowning of Anthony J. Loftis, of Lanark, in the Milwaukee river, was given in last week's issue of The Gazette, and since then further particulars have been learned. The drowning was witnessed by a little boy, who said that Anthony helped to save the life of a companion and then sank himself to rise no more. The unfortunate young man would have been 27 years old Sept. 1st. He went to Milwaukee five years ago, secured work in the train service of the C. & M. & St. Paul company, and would have soon been elevated to the position of engineer. Those who accompanied the remains from Milwaukee were Mr. and Mrs. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. McNeal, Katherine Dunn, John and Julia Dougherty, David Gerry, Will. Burns, Chas. Donevan, Jas. Ragan, Ed. Cody, Joseph Dunn and Patrick Dunn. Beautiful floral offerings were sent from that city. The remains were carried from the late home of the deceased in Lanark to the church, which is only a short distance, by twelve pallbearers. Thos. and Patrick Hopkins, John and James Dougherty, Patrick Gray, Jos. Clinton, all school boy friends, and Jas. Ragan, David Gerry, Chas. Donevan, Joseph and Patrick Dunn and John Dougherty, brother firemen of Milwaukee.

While saving the life of another—
Most noble and beautiful deed!
God took the loved son, the dearest brother,
The hearts in keen anguish must bleed.
God took him, sweet faith would still teach That "Infinite love knoweth best," just Yet when woes such as this swiftly reach us
How hard to heed faith's own behest!

You picture him ever before you,
Handsome, talented, loving and true,
And question I aught can rest our you
To the joys you so recently knew.

I realize well your deep sorrow:
Death took from my home one by one,
Till it seemed that time as tomorrow
Would bring the best light of the sun.

Then my brother, my idolized brother,
Handsome, talented, loving and true,
Seemed called by our dear, sainted mother.
From all trials our orphaned lives a new.

So, I know by my own grief, your grieving:
You say my brother's death you before;
Praised be God if a grain I'm relieving
One we'll from your hearts, tried and sore.

The darling young hero was taken
While risking his own life to save,
With faith in his God all unshaken,
He dared to be loyal and brave.

No long days and long nights of moaning,
In hopeless and unceasing pain;
Nor horror with bloodstains and groaning,
By auto or railroad wreck slain.

But quickly he slept, so sweetly!
Just after so Christ-like a deed;
Bright halos surround him as completely
While eternal life, too, is his meed.

Waupaca Potato Bake.

The Business Men's Advancement Association of Waupaca beg to announce that "The Waupaca Potato Bake and Barbecue" will be held this year on Sept. 6th and 7th.

To the 10,000 people who attended the festival last year, this will mean double the attractions given at that time, with many added features of entertainment. No locality in Wisconsin has ever experienced a day of greater enjoyment and national advertisement than was inaugurated in the city of Waupaca, at the potato bake on Sept. 7th last year. It is more than a local affair. Its influence is state and nation wide. It serves to promote one of the greatest industries of Wisconsin. You can't afford to miss it.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

According to the report of Commander-in-Chief Nevius, read in executive session at the G. A. R. encampment at Salt Lake City, last week, the survivors of the civil war numbered 620,985 on Dec. 31, 1908. There were 220,616 members of the G. A. R. in good standing at the same time. The report showed that the veterans are rapidly dying off, over 10,000 members of the G. A. R. answering the final call during 1908.

Candidates and Sisters.

Bishop J. J. Fox, of Green Bay, spent last Thursday in Stevens Point, coming here to officiate at important religious ceremonies that took place that day at St. Joseph's Academy, at the north end of Union street, at which time 108 candidates and sisters took steps perpetuating their life work in the Order of Sisters of St. Joseph. Of this number 40 candidates became novitiates, 22 sisters took vows for one year, 15 for two years, 19 for four years and 8 perpetual vows, while 20 others became candidates and 14 were aspirants. This order which is comparatively new, is composed of sisters of Polish nationality or extraction, now has a membership of 280, and its members are engaged in teaching in this state, Illinois and Michigan. The principal sermon on this occasion was preached by Bishop Fox, while Father Kurseyka, of Menasha, spoke in Polish. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Casimir Shippey, who was assisted by Father Budnik, of Chicago, and Father Bonkowski, of Detroit. The services were attended by a large number of relatives and immediate friends of the sisters and candidates, and other clergymen present were Fathers Elbert of Fancher; Woral, of Milwaukee;

Pescinski, Sokoll and Rutowski, of this city; Rafinski, Superior; Wojtalewicz, South Chicago; Ruskowski, Lorian, Ohio; Kruska, Ripon; Slisz, Wausau; Malkowski, Polonia; Jankowski, Beaver Dam; Wojak, Grand Rapids.

Teachers' Examinations.

Portage county teachers' examinations for the summer of 1909 will be held as follows:

Stevens Point, August 18th and 19th. Almond, August 24th and 25th.

Applicants should provide themselves with pens, ink and double sheet legal cap paper. Examinations will begin at 9 o'clock a. m.

GREAT LAKE CITY

FINE HARBOR AND RAILROADS
MAKE SUPERIOR NATURAL DISTRIBUTING POINT.

GROWTH HAS BEEN A MARVEL

Excellent Facilities for Commerce and Manufacturing Attract Capital—Immense Business Enterprises and Numerous Institutions
—Douglas County
Riches.

The city of Superior, in Douglas county, Wis., is named after the great lake at whose westerly end it is located.
It is modern, built on an elevated plateau and fronts on one of the finest landlocked harbors on the great lakes.
This harbor is large and roomy and capable of handling an immense amount of traffic. The United States government is now constructing a new entrance to this harbor from Lake Superior, protected by breakwaters, the total cost of which improvements will be $2,000,000. It has two large dry docks and a shipbuilding plant, and

City Hall.

the shores of the harbor are lined with immense grain elevators, flour mills, iron ore docks, coal and merchandise docks.

Seven trunk railway lines are already here to meet the commerce of the great lakes, and several more railway lines are projected and certain to reach Superior in the near future. The Lake Superior Terminal and Transfer Railway Company, which is confined to this city, has access to all docks, wharves, warehouses and elevators,
and to all railroads entering the city.

Great Terminal System.
It comprises one of the finest terminal systems in the northwest and makes it possible for shippers to receive and ship freight readily and without unnecessary delay. The combined railway and water facilities and the natural location of the city at the head of Lake Superior make this place a natural distributing point for the west and northwest. Several manufacturing concerns have availed themselves of these facilities and the United States Steel Company is now preparing to build a very extensive steel plant with its own railway line to its dockage on the water front.

Large Elevators and Docks.
Among the grain elevators, coal docks and ore docks on the borders of the harbor, are some of the largest in the world. The traffic in and out of the harbor of Superior and Duluth, one-half of which is handled at Superior, is second in volume and importance to that of the port of New York.

Its excellent location as a distributing point and facilities for shipping either by water or by rail, and with 70,000-horse power available from the Great Northern Company, through the development of the water power of the St. Louis river, the great iron ore deposits to the north, west and east, right near by, the markets afforded by the surrounding country—all tend to make Superior a most desirable point for manufacturers and wholesalers, and assure the rapid and continuous growth of a great city at this point.

The City's Institutions.
The city has numerous churches, a state normal school, 11 large and modern public school buildings, including a central high school now building, to cost over $200,000, several parochial schools, a city hall costing $150,000, a cathedral building at cost $100,000, a public library at cost $100,000, and modern opera house, building nearly completed, an asylum for the chronic insane costing $200,000, two large hospitals, several hotels, many business blocks and fine residences. The city is lighted by electricity and gas, supplied with pure lake water, has a paid fire department, and many miles of paved streets lined with shade trees, and concrete sidewalks in all parts of the city.

Rapid Growth in Population.
The growth of Superior in recent years has been phenomenal. The census of 1880 showed a population of only 650; the census of 1890 showed 11,468 while the state census of 1905 gave the city 43,499, placing it ahead of every city in Wisconsin excepting Milwaukee. The estimated population of Superior today is 50,000, and that of its sister city just across the bay in Minnesota is 50,000, making a city of practically 100,000 at the head of Lake Superior. These cities are connected by one combined railway, street car and wagon bridge three railway bridges and several ferry lines. One

Unloading at Coal Dock.

State Normal School.

company controls the electric street car lines of Superior and Duluth, and besides giving excellent service in each city, runs cars every ten minutes between the two cities. The equipment is modern and up-to-date and compares well with that of any city in the United States. Two telephone systems are operated in common to patrons of both cities.

Douglas County's Riches.
The county of Douglas, of which Superior is the county seat, is the northwesterly county of the state of Wisconsin. It has an area of about 36 by 38 miles, has a level and moderately rolling surface, and is well watered and drained by living streams. It has a strong, rich soil, well adapted for the raising of roots, grains, grasses and fruits. The lands not improved contain large amounts of valuable timbers and woods: pine, cedar, maple, birch, spruce, poplar, basswood, etc.
The county is traversed by numerous wagon roads and by all the railways that enter Superior. It embraces 11 town governments, one incorporated village and one city.

The county, outside of the city, contains a population of about six thousand, several live villages, 20 post offices, and is well supplied with churches and schools. The agricultural department of the University of the State of Wisconsin has established experimental farms in various localities in the northern part of Wisconsin.
Two of these farms are located in Douglas county.

Fine Dairying District.
It is proclaimed by representatives of the agricultural department of the University of Wisconsin that northern Wisconsin constitutes one of the best dairying districts in the state. No soil produces finer hay and clover, and small grains grow and mature readily, producing good crops. The cities of Superior and Duluth furnish an excellent market for butter, eggs, milk, fruit or any produce from this soil. Land is cheap, the climate healthful and altogether, Douglas county offers rare inducements for anyone desiring to procure lands from which to get good returns.

Superior, with its immense shipping facilities, manufacturing excellent system of public schools, churches of all denominations, healthy and invigorating climate, beautiful parks, canoeing, boating, fishing and hunting, offers inducements for business, for the home and for recreation exceeded by no other city in the northwest.

The Real Scrap.
Two muscular individuals were hammering at each other in the ring.
"Horrible!" ejaculated a tender hearted spectator.
"Horrible nothing," said a regular patron. "If you want to see a real scrap get next to them when they divide the purse."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Winona Seminary WINONA, MINN.

FOR YOUNG WOMEN
Conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis.
OPENS TUESDAY, SEPT. 7th, 1909

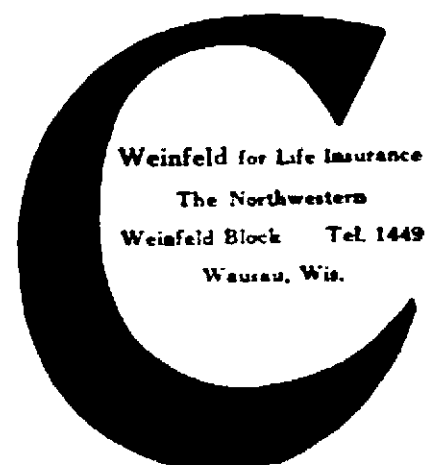

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT—Classical, Latin, Scientific, Modern Language, Commercial Courses. Seminary accredited to the University of Minnesota.
Splendid advantages offered earnest, capable young women who have a purpose in study, to specialize in Piano, Voice, Violin, Art, Dramatic Expression, and Household Economics.
Each Department graded into a leading higher institution of similar kind. — Home life of the students is ideal. Indoor and outdoor athletics, Literary, Musical and Dramatic Societies.
Catalog, Booklet of Information, Department Bulletins mailed on application.
Address — The Directress.

The action of the Department of the Interior in restoring to the public domain valuable coal lands in Wyoming, which had been illegally secured by certain speculators will arouse wide applause. With all the experiences of the past in regard to scheming by land speculators, the government ought to be able to prevent the gobbling up of valuable mineral lands at prices which represent only a small percentage of their real value.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good,"
It is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better.
But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION, CHICAGO

Entrance to Creation Building, with Robin's magnificent "Guardian Angel," seventy-three feet high, whose spread wings arch one hundred and fifty feet above the admiring multitudes. In the beautiful marbled edifice is the largest stage in the world, two hundred and seventy-five feet wide, one hundred and ten feet deep and eighty feet high. Here is enacted in reverential grandeur the great biblical drama of the "Garden of Eden." "Creation" is but one of the thousand attractions at Riverview Exposition.

In the production a great organ intones appropriate music. Its deep tubes produce thunder; its flute-like notes, the mimicry of forest small life. Flashes of lightning and angry storms are made by electrical and water effects. Throughout the exhibition grounds famous bands render the crystal air resonant with melody. The softer tones of orchestras, laughter of joyous throngs, whirr of aerial cars and of flying machines, pounding of great steamers, chanting of Indians, diverse harmonies of "ballyhoos," spraying fountains, cascades, lakes and river, and countless other activities of the great Exposition, mystify, amaze and delight.

To visit Chicago without seeing RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION would be to fail to see its greatest attraction. All car lines lead to its gates.

Do You Get Up

With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health-restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, liver, bladder and urinary passages. It cures that tendency to hold water, and, following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this paper and offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., New York, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Her Bargain.

An Old City man, who was detained at the house for a part of the day, handed his wife, who was going downtown, a quarter of a dollar and requested her to get him three cigars for it, according to the Blizzard.

When she returned she handed him the package, remarking exultantly: "That shows that women can beat men all hollow when it comes to making purchases. I found a place where I could get eight for a quarter instead of three. Isn't that going some?" And the poor man, as he took his medicine, merely remarked: "It certainly is, dear."

LINCOLN'S HOUSE.

An Occasion When He Did Not Recognize It at First Sight.

"Mrs. Lincoln played a good joke on her husband when he was practicing law and journeyed about from court to court on horseback," says Major Blüthner. "Those trips often took several weeks at a time. "On one of these trips Lincoln was gone for about four weeks. He returned late one night. Stopping his horse, he dismounted at the usual place. He turned to go into the house and then stopped. Although he was a man of temperance, he thought he must have been imbibing on the way some time that day, for before him stood a building he had never seen before. He thought it over for a minute and then went across the street and knocked at a friend's door. They were in bed, and some one sang out: "Who is it?"

"Who is it?" was the reply. "Two been looking for my house. Can you tell me where it is?" "Guess I must have been lost. I thought it was just across the way. When I went away the building was one story high, and now it is two."

CONTINUOUS SHOWS.

They Were Started by B. F. Keith in a Boston Store.

It was in the month of January, 1883, that Mr. B. F. Keith, who had been studying the show business with far-seeing eyes for many years, presented, in a store that he had leased in Boston, the first continuous show ever seen on any stage. He paid his performers $20 a week for a single turn and $40 for double and required them to give eight or nine turns a day. His "top liner" or chief attraction was a pound and a half baby. The doors of his playhouse were thrown open at noon, and from that time until half past 10 at night the performance went on without interruption.

Patrons were allowed to spend the entire day in the theater, and at first so many availed themselves of this opportunity to get a substantial filling of amusement at a small cost that Mr. Keith realized that he must either abandon the idea of a continuous entertainment or else invent some method by which the audience could be driven out of the building and place made for those outside who were waiting for admittance. Necessity is the mother of invention, especially when it is mated with sharp Yankee wit, and it was thus that what is known as "the chaser" came into the world.—James L. Ford in McClure's Magazine.

CIRCUS PERFORMERS.

The Real Dangers With Which They Are Concerned.

The individual point of view of the circus performer toward his work is full of surprises. Rarely if ever is he worried over the things that the audience imagines make him uneasy and never about his own equipment of nerve, muscle and judgment. The bareback rider worries about his horse, for the slightest deviation from the animal's customary course and gait ruins a harmony between horse and rider, upon which depends the success and even the life of the performer. The man on the trapeze is not at all disturbed at being so high up in the air. The higher up he is the more security he feels that in case of accident he will have time enough instinctively to twist his body into the right position for falling into the net. What worries him most is the fear of some unsuspected weakness in his apparatus.

The animal trainer is more afraid of an accidental scratch from a good natured but blood poisoning claw than of any actual conflict with an angry animal. More than that, he has a real affection for his animals and dislikes the stern necessity of punishing them. The very clown is not so much pleased by the laughter of his audience as disturbed by the thought that it quite fails to appreciate the time and care he has expended in working out the details of his humorous contribution.—Ralph Bergengren in Atlantic.

One View of Saving.

Ik Marvel, author of the "Reveries of a Bachelor," was all his life opposed to the modern commercial spirit. A young disciple from the west once visited the aged writer in his New England home. The youth, a poet, said he thought he would put away his verses and write magazine love stories, so as to be able to save money.

But Mr. Mitchell frowned and shook his head. "Saving," he said, "is the mania for depriving yourself of things which you want now for fear you may not have things which you won't possibly want forty years hence."

Did He Mean to Be Funny?

The editor of a newspaper whose policy it is to print many letters from correspondents in neighboring towns recently received such a communication from his representative in one place as to which he was not quite sure. He could not decide whether the correspondent was unconsciously humorous or whether he was endeavoring to comply with the standing instructions of the paper to "always be on the lookout for any little touch of humor that may brighten up our columns." The item read as follows: "Mr. Harry Spinks, the well known butcher of this place, has been losing flesh rapidly of late."—Lippincott's.

Mixed Ownership.

A countryman, having been summoned to appear before the magistrate for not having a sign on his cart, was in due course brought before him. The magistrate asked him if he had anything to say for himself, and he replied that he had a difficult question to ask which he could not solve himself. "The question is this," he said. "The wheels of the cart belonged to John the miller, and the body of the cart belongs to the vicar, and the bag of old bones (meaning the horse) belongs to me. Now, gentlemen, if you can tell me what name I can put on it I will have it done immediately." He was let off.—London Answers.

A Ghost in a Clock.

Bashurstoke provides a remarkable story of a ghost in the form of a clock. At the approach of midnight each night the otherwise peaceful "grandfather" becomes inhabited by a spook. The ticking changes into a deep and peculiar thumping, the clock increases in stature, while a pair of gray feet protrude from beneath its base. Passing through transitional stages, the thumping is replaced by a spasm-like breathing, and upon the stroke of 12 the pendulum door opens, revealing an enormous ashy gray hand with mallet-shaped fingers. The clock face disappears, displaying a frightful gray head, large and round, with abnormally long, pale blue eyes. Beyond a quivering stoll, which causes weird tapplings along the landings during the night, the apparition is inoffensive and is said to prove of great service in sending every one early to bed.—London Tit-Bits.

The Cure of Chronic Diseases is not such a difficult task in the hands of a competent specialist.

DR. BREWER & SON

have made Chronic Diseases a specialty for 32-YEARS-32

and now have records of 17,500 cases treated by their method. No matter what your complaint is, how long you have been sick or how many doctors have treated you, try our method. It never fails where there is a possibility of cure and the directions are fully followed.

Incurable cases not accepted unless patient understands it. When others fail let us explain our method. Why not consult a physician who makes his visits regularly and you are sure to meet again? Those afflicted with disease of the Brain, Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves, Rheumatism, or those suffering from Neuralgia, Debility, Fits, Tumors, Cancer, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Eczema, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Loss of Voice, Consumption, Asthma, Humors, Eruptions, Bad Effects of the Grip, Sore, Nervous Debility or any disease of long standing. He keeps a record of every case treated and the result obtained and can refer you to those who have been cured. Diseases of women a specialty. Consultation and examination are entirely free. Reasonable terms for treatment. One price. No large fees.

Will be at Jacobs House, Stevens Point, on Saturday, September 18th. At the Hotel Witter, Grand Rapids, on Tuesday, September 21st.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Stevens Point
People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and alone will stand the test of time.

Stevens Point people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

James B. Carpenter, justice of peace, 211 Dixon street, Stevens Point, Wis., says: "For fifteen years I suffered more or less from rheumatism and kidney trouble. My back was very painful and weak and nothing I did for the trouble seemed to have any effect. Four or five years ago I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I immediately procured them at Taylor Bros. drug store. They gave me such prompt relief that I publicly endorsed them. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times since and still consider them the best of all remedies for kidney trouble and rheumatism."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Mailed by Foster-McLurg Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agent for the U. S.

How to Cure Skin Diseases.
The germs and their poisons which cause the disease must be drawn to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Salves and greasy lotions may give temporary relief, but they have not the power to destroy the germ life. ZEMO, a clean liquid for external use will draw to the surface and destroy the germ life, leaving a clean healthy skin. Zemo positively cures eczema, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, itching piles, and every form of skin or scalp disease. H. D. McCulloch Co. endorses and recommends Zemo and will give you a sample bottle.

When the stomach, heart or kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Don't drug the stomach—nor stimulate the heart or kidneys. That is simply a make shift. Get a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Sold by all dealers.

Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, heart and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by all dealers.

MEET IN SUPERIOR

WISCONSIN EDITORS HOLD A SUCCESSFUL THREE-DAYS' CONVENTION THERE.

COOPER ELECTED PRESIDENT

Black River Falls Man Honored—
Members of Association Hand-somerly Entertained at Banquet by Superior Commercial Club.

The three-days' session of the Wisconsin Press association held at Superior Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 28 to 30, was concluded by the election of officers, and the decision to enter upon an active campaign to increase the membership of the association. It is likely that a meeting will be held in the near future to outline some plan of action. A resolution was adopted stating that the price charged for the session law supplements by the concerns printing them was excessive and that unless the price was cut to a reasonable rate the association would make arrangements to print its own supplements. A committee consisting of W. H. Bridgeman, Stanley; Charles G. Starks, Berlin; and John H. Dahlen, Mount Horeb, was appointed to confer with the printers of the supplements concerning the matter.

Prizes for Write-Ups.
The committee to judge the papers entered in the contest for prizes for the best write-up on Superior to be published before August 1 was appointed as follows: J. S. Konkel, Superior Leader-Clarion; J. T. Murphy, Superior Daily Telegram; and V. E. McCaskill, principal Superior Normal school.

The prizes offered were: $75, first prize; $50, second prize; $25, third prize.

The officers elected for the new year are as follows: George F. Cooper, Black River Falls, president; Will K. Davis, Milton; H. A. Whipple, Waterloo; J. H. Frazier, Viola; C. A. Broth, Milwaukee; Adelaide King, Waupun; L. B. Squier, Tomah; Hattie Moberg, Amherst; H. W. Meyer, Appleton; E. J. Scott, Shawano; A. C. Chase, Colfax, vice-presidents; F. E. Andrews, Bloomer, secretary; C. L. Coward, Lodi, treasurer; W. H. Bridgeman, Stanley; O. F. Roessler, Jefferson; F. R. Huth, Grantsburg; W. K. Davis, Milton; G. A. Markham, Independence, members of executive committee.

Were Well Entertained.

The entertainment of the members of the association was splendidly arranged by the local committee, of which J. S. Konkel, publisher of the Superior Leader-Clarion, was chairman, and began with a boat trip around the harbor Tuesday afternoon, the boat going up the St. Louis river, then back and out into the lake through the Superior outlet, back and around by Duluth and through the Duluth outlet, back to Superior.

Tuesday evening a splendid banquet tendered by the Commercial club of the city was given the members of the press at the Hotel Superior, many of the prominent people of the city being present. John T. Murphy of the Superior Telegram was toastmaster and toasts were responded to by the following:

W. H. Webb, "The Arctic Circle"; Editor Atkinson of Eau Claire Leader. "The National Guard"; State Senator G. B. Hudnall spoke of the influence of the press on the legislature; J. D. Gillette talked on newspaper graft; Editor Bridgeman of Stanley News. "The Importance of the Subscriber"; H. P. Peterson of Superior Tidende. "Value of the Foreign Press"; Editor Case of Colfax Messenger reviewed history of the organization; Joseph Konkel of Superior Leader-Clarion. "Ethics of Journalism"; T. J. Roth talked on advertising, and the closing speech was a tribute to the press of Wisconsin by Congressman Lenroot.

Music was furnished the banquet by Edwin Harris Berg's orchestra, and Misses Harriet Nobles and Isadore Silver sang. The little daughter of Editor J. N. Dahlen of Mount Horeb Times also sang.

Wednesday afternoon various points of interest were visited by the visiting members and a ride around the city in automobiles courteously furnished by residents of the city concluded the program of the meeting.

In the Business Sessions.
The business sessions of the association were most interesting and profitable, splendid papers being read as follows:

"How Advertising Rates May Be Increased." O. F. Byxbee, business manager Inland Printer, Chicago.

"How More Advertising May Be Secured." S. C. Theis, special newspaper representative, St. Paul, Minn.

"Advertising from the Standpoint of the Newspaper Man." F. Huth of the Grantsburg Journal. Mr. Huth was unable to be present and his paper was read by J. S. Konkel.

"Pulling the Throttle on a Country Weekly." Frank Hamill of the Spooner Advocate.

"Mission of a Woman on the Staff of a Newspaper." Mrs. Ada R. Markham of the Independence News Wave.

"The Song of the Press"—an original poem. E. R. Barager of the Prentice News.

"A First-Class Daily in a City of the Fourth Class." Charles G. Starks of the Berlin Journal.

Washington's Plague Spots

Lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding ground of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility and bring suffering or death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all-round tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M. James, of Lovell, S. C. They cure stomach, liver, kidney and blood troubles and will prevent typhoid. Try them. 50c. Guaranteed by H. D. McCulloch Co.

Milk bottles are now made out of paper. After a while, we suppose, it will be so arranged that we can have our milk delivered each morning in our favorite publication.

ZEMO, a clean liquid for external use, stops itching instantly and permanently cures eczema and every form of itching skin or scalp disease. H. D. McCulloch Co. says Zemo is the most successful and meritorious remedy they have ever sold for the prompt relief and positive cure of eczema and every form of itching skin disease. Ask for sample and see display and photos of many remarkable cures made by Zemo.

LANGUAGE OF MUSIC.

The Manner in Which It Appeals to the Human Heart.

To those musical agnostics who deny to music any beautiful save those of design and maintain that of itself it cannot express ideas and feelings Redfern Mason makes appropriate reply.

But there is another side to the picture. What was it that made George H. rise in his place when they sang the "Hallelujah" chorus, thereby setting an example which is followed to this day? What was it in the finale of the fifth symphony that drew the Napoleonic veteran to his feet with the exclamation, "The emperor?" What sanctity in the Ambrosian hymns moved St. Augustine to tears?

During the work of the French revolution it was forbidden, on pain of death, to play the "Mars des Vaches" in the hearing of the Swiss soldiers, for so acute a longing for home did it bring upon them that they deserted in hundreds. Are we to think that there was no virtue in the music itself and that the effect produced was the outcome of purely accidental circumstances?

The Austrian government forbade Berlioz to play the "Rackezy" march at Budapest, fearful of its effect on the inflammable Hungarians. Was the fire of patriotism kindled by the mere knowledge that the melody symbolized Hungary, or did the notes speak with tongues of flame?—Atlantic Monthly.

A LION HUNT.

Usually a Case in Which Hunters Goad the Game Into Combat.

There is a distinction in Africa between ordinary lions and "man eaters," says T. R. MacMechen in McClure's Magazine. The ordinary lion does not willfully attack man. The presence of lions roaming at night on the veldt is not disturbing to any native nor to whites who have come to understand the beast. Persons returning to their camps after nightfall do not notice the roaring of lions or the cries of leopards or hyenas.

It is seldom that people bent upon domestic errands carry weapons in the darkness, although at night the veldt of British East Africa is alive with roaming beasts, which may be heard from the verandas of the houses. Lions give the passing man a wide berth, day or night, when it is apparent that he means no mischief. An ordinary lion, even when wounded, will try flight before fight. When its escape is disputed it will, especially if wounded, try to maul its enemy with teeth and claws.

A lion hunt is usually a chase in which the hunters goad the game into combat. Once a lion has tasted human blood, however, it is no more afraid of man, but learns that he is the weakest of animals and the choicest of meat. Such a lion is known as a man eater because now he hunts man.

Ready Replies.

One of Lord Carmarthen's future constituents once asked the youthful candidate his opinion upon some abstruse question of which he knew nothing. "Let him alone," cried another derisively. "Don't you see he's nothing but a baby?" "What do you think?" reiterated his inquirer, heedless of the interruption and determined to have an answer. "I think," said Lord Carmarthen, with ready wit, "that it is high time for all babies to be in bed," and so saying he gathered up his papers and disappeared from the platform.

Again—and this last anecdote is so well known as to have become well nigh historical—at a crowded meeting just before his election, he was interrupted by the question, "Does your mother know you're out?" "Yes, she does," was the instant retort, "and by Tuesday night she will know I'm in." His prophecy proved correct, and he headed the poll by a large majority.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of humanity? Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable effort?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dares say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for stomach, kidney and heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the stomach, nor stimulate the heart or kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments, the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such ailments.

It is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days—and if it fails—to help you, the entire expense is mine—no more."

Then only should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dares not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer!

I do have a remarkable remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Remember, you are free to consult me just as you wish, day or night, and I will advise you and the best to do for you—and without cost.

It is a word of two from me will clear up some of the most complicated and thousands upon thousands of cases by my plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So, I would suggest an order at once. Take the medicine and let me hear from you.

A special will bring the opportunity. I will have one sent and trust worthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So write me now and save all delays. Remember that a person's health is precious. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Card of Thanks—We wish to return our sincerest thanks to all those who assisted us in making our "home coming" picnic so successful on Aug. 15th.

M. Hopkins, M. Loftis, Aug. Pinkowski, Aug. Pufahl, Committee.

The men of St. Patrick's congregation are busy hauling material with which to renovate the exterior of their church. The following men are at work: Aug. Pinkowski, J. Osborne, Jos. Jolly, Tom Loftis, Dan Hopkins, Wm. Dougherty, John Doyle, F. Wiscoski and Tom Hopkins.

The home coming picnic at Loftis grove Aug. 15 was a historical event in Portage county. One of the largest crowds ever assembled at a rural picnic gathered there. People from all over the county attended. It was an ideal day for a picnic. A large delegation of Knights of Columbus of Stevens Point attended to participate in the festivities of the day. The entire day was taken up with various games. The notable feature of the day was an eloquent address by D. I. Sickelsteel, of Stevens Point. He pointed out the necessity of every American citizen to make use of some avocation of recreation, and the more so of industrious citizens of the soil to take advantage of social gatherings in their rural districts.

Misses Clara and L. C. Leary and Wm. Atkinson rendered some very beautiful vocal selections. Several little girls, attired in white, rendered some excellent recitations. These were Bridget Grace and Margaret Tobin, Mary Sans and Anna Pufahl. The most interesting feature of the day's program was the ball game between the Knights of Columbus of Stevens Point and Lanark. The day's program was concluded by an exciting tug of war between Lanark and Portage county. Lanark carried off the laurels under the leadership of Mr. Jordan. Everyone who attended spoke well for the cordiality given by the members of St. Patrick's congregation. The various committees who had the management of the day deserve credit for their ability to entertain so large a crowd. The estimate of the day's attendance was in the neighborhood of one thousand. The following were out of town visitors: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Piffner, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Boston, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Blood, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Neuberger, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sullivan, M. Cassidy, M. J. Mersch, Peter Triewerler, Peter Adams and Miss Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Krembs, P. Curran and Roy Cashion, of Stevens Point; Messrs. Petersen, E. Wold, J. Skoglund, A. L. Rounds, J. Wold, Hjertberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Luce, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dwinell, of Amherst; J. Kubisiak, Ambrose and Dennis Glizinski, Frank Kubisiak, Aug. Bickel, Emil Skalitaky, of Amherst Junction; and many others of various neighboring villages.

MANY BASE BALL GAMES

Interesting Contests in This City and County—Home Coming Picnic in Lanark, Sunday.

Quite a number from this city attended the Home Coming picnic at Lanark, last Sunday, and it is estimated that there were about 1,000 people on the grounds during the day. The weather was ideal after the recent showers and all present were in joyful, holiday mood. A picnic dinner was served and the afternoon was devoted to various races and games. The Koschollek, Heffron, Piffner and Stanowski autos were among the vehicles from this city that made the trip to Lanark. D. I. Sickelsteel addressed the assembled crowd during the afternoon and gave one of his usual good talks. One of the most interesting events of the day was the ball game played by the Forester-K. C. team of this city and the Lanark nine. Following is the line-up:

Stevens Point—Lanark—Quinn, 1b..... N. Perkins, Gibbons, c..... O. Glodowski, Krembs, 2b..... Utley, Ash, 3b..... Mallison, Cashion, 1f..... P. Glodowski, Mullen, 2f..... Brandt, Neuberger, 2b..... Peterson, Blood, 3f..... J. Perkins, Berens, 1f..... J. Perkins, Sub.—Stevens Point, Assmann.

Score by innings: Stevens Point—2 0 0 1 2 0 0 2—7 Lanark—3 6 0 0 0 1 4—14

The Eagle Park on the North Side was the scene of an exciting game of baseball, Sunday afternoon, when the Specials defeated the Eagles by a score of 7 to 6. Kutella, of Junction City, pitched for the Specials, while Chapman did that work for their opponents. Geo. Dobzynski acted as umpire and the score by innings was as follows:

Eagles—0 0 0 0 1 2 3 0 0—6 Specials—0 0 2 4 0 0 0 1—7

The Eagles also played the Spikes that afternoon and defeated them by a score of 9 to 0. The first game was forfeited to the Eagles by the umpire in the fourth inning because the Spikes refused to play when Umpire Hintz called their manager out no the home plate. The batteries for the Spikes were Kutella and Prychla and Mosey and Kurszeski for the Eagles.

The Papermakers and Athletics crossed bats at the fair grounds last Sunday afternoon, a small crowd being present to witness an interesting game of base ball. Menzel pitched six innings for the Athletics and struck out three men, when he was succeeded by "Wiz" Hubbard, who has one strike-out to his credit. Mike Marx, the Papermakers' pitcher, fanned four of the opposing team. Three-base hits were made by Oertel and John Marx. The line-up and score by innings follows:

Papermakers—Athletics—Lutz, 1b..... Maunders, Fishleigh, 2b..... T. Menzel, Oertel, 3b..... Neuberger, M. Marx, 1f..... W. Menzel, Suchowski, 2f..... Hubbard, Scribner, 3f..... Love, J. Marx, 1f..... Cashion, Hoerter, 1f..... Moran, Ramage, 1f..... Pogorzelski

Papermakers—2 2 0 0 0 5 2 0—11 Athletics—0 0 0 0 0 4 0 3—7

MAILED LETTERS.

Many persons are under the impression that a letter once mailed is no longer the property of the sender, but belongs to the person to whom it is addressed. This is an error. Under the postal regulations of the United States and the rulings of the highest courts in the land, a letter does not belong to the addressee until it is delivered to him.

The writer has a right to reclaim and regain possession of it provided he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it. Even after the letter has arrived at the office which is its destination and before it has been delivered to the addressee it may be recalled by the writer by telegraph through the mailing office.

The regulations of the postoffice department require, of course, that utmost care shall be taken by the postmaster at the office of mailing to ascertain that the person who desires to withdraw the letter is really the one who is entitled to do so, and the postmaster is responsible for his error if he delivers the letter to an impostor or to an unauthorized person.

The vital principle in our political system lies at the bottom of this matter. In this country the state is the servant or agent of the citizen, not his master. It remains merely his agent throughout the transmission of a letter. The state may prescribe regulations under which its servants may carry a message for the citizen, but it cannot shirk its responsibility to him. —Washington Star.

WE CAN WIN CHINA

Former Consul Denby Says Field Is Limitless for America.

For the Conquest of the Chinese Trade Field United States Must Cease to Regard Empire Merely as Market Place.

Washington.—"The American dollar with the American man behind it. That," said Charles Denby, recently consul general at Shanghai, who is in Washington en route to a new post of duty at Vienna, "should be the motto for the conquest of the Chinese trade field. To achieve success we must cease to regard China merely as a market and begin to consider it a region for permanent investment. We cannot hope to sell our goods by standing at the doors of our warehouses. We must get closer to the Chinese people. They are unusually friendly toward Americans as a result of our generous policy in Chinese affairs during recent years. The government is likewise cordial, and investment of American capital is desired."

"The time must come when our financiers and business men to promote American trade in China will regard seven per cent. in that empire as seven per cent. here. It is futile to hope for orders for American materials to be used in the construction works financed by foreign capital. In all government loans made for the construction of railroads, etc., it is now purchased from the nation providing the funds. I have known Germans constructing a railroad in Shantung to refuse to consider American tenders for material and equipment solely on the ground that the orders must go to Germany, even at a higher price, because the enterprise was being financed by German banks.

"One feature of the Chinese industrial situation has escaped attention here. It is that the empire is at the threshold of what, I believe, will be an era of remarkable manufacturing activity. The American Tobacco company, which operates in the east as the British-American Tobacco company, manufactures, from American tobacco largely, vast quantities of cigarettes. The cheap labor available at their factories in Shanghai, Tientsin and Mukden, together with their employment of the most modern machinery, enables them to prove the wisdom of production close to the consumer. It is my opinion that the manufacture of ready-to-wear clothing in large quantities would be a most profitable pursuit. The Standard Oil company has made vast profits by getting close to the consumer. Its oil boats deliver petroleum to the most remote sections of the empire without recourse to the middleman."

Chinese Ban on Japs.

Tokyo.—The greatest stumbling block in the way of an amicable settlement between China and Japan of the differences over the Antung-Mukden railway is the order of the Chinese authorities that land be sold to Japanese along the line under severe penalty. This and several other questions concerning Japanese policy in China will be determined in a short time, it is expected, as the whole matter has been placed in the hands of the emperor by Foreign Minister Komura.

TOMB AND BODIES ARE SOLD

Vault Wherein Lay the Owner's Dead Disposed of at a Forced Public Sale.

Greensburg, Pa.—The spectacle of a vault wherein lay the owner's dead being disposed of at a forced sale was witnessed the other day at the old Unity cemetery. The sale was necessitated by the insistence of creditors of the owner, once a wealthy land owner at Latrobe.

Then it was decided that no legal course was open for the auctioneer but to cry the sale in the plot where lie scores of pioneer dead and the bidding was started at $250. Others raised it to $600. Then from the crowd emerged an old woman, whose only daughter and grandson lay in the vault. In a broken voice she bid $605. A few more bids raising the figure $5 were offered by her and each was met by the other bidders. With an agonized glance at the receptacle of her dead she turned and left the cemetery.

The vault was finally sold to J. J. Peppery for $745, but notice was promptly given on the part of the owner that the sale would be contested.

Monkey Robs Apple Tree.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Jacob Smith of this city thought all along that some of the neighbors were robbing his apple trees, as the fruit was disappearing rapidly. He kept watch on the trees and early the other morning he saw a monkey, owned by an Italian organ grinder of the vicinity, at the top of a tree helping himself.

When the owner of the orchard remonstrated, the monkey threw an apple at him, striking him in the face. Mr. Smith will take legal steps for vengeance either on the monkey or the monkey's boss.

DIES IN SECLUSION

Woman of Wealthy Family Lived Lonely Life for Years.

Deserted by Husband and Son as Result of a Family Quarrel, She Finally Hid Herself in Little Cottage.

Trenton, N. J.—After secluding herself in a lonely cottage for 18 years, during which time she preferred her loneliness to the luxuries of a mansion in Germany, Mrs. Katherine Zimmerman, a member of a wealthy German family, is dead in the Mercer hospital here.

A broken heart was responsible for the woman's desire for seclusion. The first trip she had made from her trim little cottage in 18 years was in the ambulance which took her to the hospital. Mrs. Zimmerman, who was 83 years old, was surrounded by wealth in her childhood, passed near Berlin, with a poor lad named Henry Zimmerman as a playmate of the little Fraulein van Augur. In time Zimmerman told of his love, which was reciprocated. Marriage seemed impossible, because of his poverty. He sought the land of liberty to win wealth. He was but moderately successful.

Much to his surprise he received a letter from his fiancée declaring her willingness to leave her home, face separation from her parents and come to her sweetheart. Zimmerman accepted the sacrifice and the couple were married in this country. They located at Wilkesbarre, Pa. For 35 years the couple lived in peace. One son was born. He had grown to manhood when a family quarrel brought about separation between husband and wife.

Mrs. Zimmerman came to this city. Both her husband and son had disappeared. She had then passed the half-century mark and soon came into possession of a small fortune by the death of a relative.

After continuing her search for seven years, Mrs. Zimmerman wearied of the world. She purchased a cottage in the suburbs and began her life of seclusion. She decided never to talk to a human being again. She told her resolution to several friends here, members of prominent German families, and they consented to see that she was supplied with food without leaving her home, as she desired. She arranged to pay the money necessary for this.

Day after day during her entire period of isolation, food had been left on the rear porch of her home in the morning, at noon and in the evening. To prevent herself from being seen or seeing others, those who brought the supplies would be far away before the aged woman would touch the food. The meals, which were always left in a basket, were procured by Mrs. Zimmerman by lowering from the upper room of the house, in which she lived almost entirely, a rope with a hook attached, by means of which she would haul up the receptacle.

Millionaire Doesn't Care for Expenses and Changes Residence Site for Better View.

Waukegan, Ill.—That Joseph Medill Patterson, the Chicago millionaire, who owns a palatial home south of Libertyville, doesn't care for expenses when it comes to satisfying his wishes has just come out, the incident occurring when work was started on his mansion, which is now completed.

Patterson bought a large tract of land south of Libertyville and had an architect and landscaper start work on laying out his home.

Plans for the house were accepted and the contract let, and work ordered started.

One day, after work on the foundation was well started, Patterson happened to drive out to his place.

Driving down the main road leading south of Libertyville, Patterson saw his house rising on a beautiful site, facing the main road in accordance with the plans of the architect and landscaper, who had ordered it built there.

"Here, that isn't where I want my house built. I want it over there a half mile, facing that other road, running east and west. Dig it up and take the house over there."

And the architect did as ordered. He had the foundation taken up and the house was restored on the side road, on a spot which, to some people, is far inferior to the one where the architect and landscaper planned erecting it. But on the new spot the building went up, and now is one of the show places of the locality.

ment of details, etc., but Patterson was satisfied, and that was all to be considered.

JACKIES ARE MOST FRUGAL

Sailors Said to Save More Money Than Any Other Class Despite Tradition of Profligacy.

Washington.—Though "Jack ashore" may have acquired the reputation of being the model spendthrift, the latest statistics of the navy department show him to be a thrifty person when it comes down to year in and year out steadiness.

Jack's pay, though not large, is decidedly regular, and then again Jack has long periods when he has no opportunity to spend at all. If, when he does get a bit of shore leave, he manages to make things hum some-what faster than the average man in the street and often rolls back to the anchorage in a state of financial depression equal to the treasury of a South American republic, he, ten to one, has not spent it all, for, according to the allotment system in vogue in the navy today, the bluejacket has the privilege of allotting any portion of his pay to whomsoever he may designate.

The pamphlet recently published by Assistant Paymaster Jere Maupin, U. S. N., shows 22 per cent. of the sailors are putting something by. The allotment privilege only applies to the men serving on the ships. The sailors on shore duty are presumed to take care of such matters for themselves.

It has been ascertained that employees of corporations generally save less than 20 per cent. of their salaries. In fact the savings are probably near or ten per cent. on an average.

TAFT BARS POLITICS

ISSUES STRICT INSTRUCTIONS TO SECRETARY NAGEL ABOUT CENSUS TAKERS.

VIOLATION MEANS LOST JOB

Supervisors and Enumerators Must Not Serve Purposes of Anyone—Announce Appointments for Near-By States.

Beverly, Mass.—In a letter addressed to Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, President Taft served notice that any man engaged in the taking of the thirteenth census of the United States who engages in politics in any way will immediately be dismissed from the service.

Outside of casting their votes the president believes that census supervisors and enumerators should keep clear of anything that savors of politics, national, state or local.

The president orders that the secretary of commerce and labor and the director of the census embody in the regulations governing the taking of the census the rule so forcibly laid down in his letter. He says the success of the census will depend upon efficiency and strict attention to duty.

Mr. Taft says in appointing census supervisors it has been found necessary to select men recommended by senators and congressmen in their districts. He says he realizes this method of selection might easily be perverted to political purposes and it is to take the census out of politics, so far as the actual work is concerned, that he has explicitly expressed his desire concerning the regulations.

In concluding his letter the president says:

"I wish to make this regulation as board as possible, and wish it enforced without exception. It is of the highest importance that the census should be taken by men having only the single purpose of reaching a just and right result, and that the large amount of money to be expended in the employment of so vast a machine as the census shall not be made to serve the political purposes of anyone."

One hundred and thirty-four additional supervisors of the census were appointed Sunday. Altogether 184 of the 330 supervisors now have been commissioned and Mr. Taft's task is a little more than half completed. Among those appointed are:

Illinois, Third district, Frederick A. Schlick; Fourth district, Donald A. Callahan; Sixth district, Frank W. Latimer; Seventh district, Charles Sykes Murdock; Ninth district, George W. Royster; Twelfth district, William J. Butler; Fifteenth district, S. Bartlett Kerr; Sixteenth district, John T. Galbraith.

Indiana, First district, William D. Crow; Second district, James A. Searing; Third district, William W. Lingle; Fourth district, William O. Pretzman; Fifth district, Samuel J. Wilton; Sixth district, William Henry Tieman; Seventh district, William Low Rice; Eighth district, Joseph Roy Broyles; Ninth district, Abel Telemachus Claypool; Tenth district, Francis H. Doran; Eleventh district, Henry Louis Bendel; Twelfth district, John Wood; Thirteenth district, Samuel R. Thomas.

Iowa, First district, John W. Rowley; Second district, Asa A. Hall; Seventh district, Cambridge Culbertson.

Kansas, First district, Reese Van Sant; Second district, William H. Smith; Third district, Charles Yoe.

Michigan, Third district, Fred W. Stuart; Fourth district, Charles Foster Davison; Fifth district, John L. Boer; Seventh district, Hugh H. Hart; Eighth district, John Baird; Ninth district, John A. Sherman; Tenth district, Charles R. Jackson; Eleventh district, Sylvester Perry Youngs; Twelfth district, James T. Bennett.

Minnesota, First district, Frank E. Gartside; Second district, Clark W. Gilmore; Third district, Avis B. Kelly; Fourth district, William Byron Webster; Fifth district, Charles H. Cairns; Sixth district, Ezra Edward McCrea; Seventh district, Charles W. Odell; Eighth district, Byron Lincoln Hollister; Ninth district, Daniel Willard Meeker.

Nebraska, First district, Frank E. Helvy; Second district, Charles L. Saunders; Third district, Joseph Albert Hays; Fourth district, Philip F. Bross.

North Dakota, First district, Carl N. Frich.

VETERANS MARCH IN GREAT REVIEW

PARADE OF THE GRAND ARMY
IN SALT LAKE CITY

CLIMAX OF ENCAMPMENT

Old Soldiers Are Greeted with Cheers and Tears—Gathering in the Utah Capital Well Managed.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 11.—Forty-four departments of the Grand Army of the Republic, escorted by the Fifteenth United States Infantry and the National Guard of Utah and followed by the Naval Veterans, the Ex-Union Prisoners of War, the Army Nurses in carriages, the Sons of Veterans and the women's organizations allied to the Grand Army, marched today in the parade that was the culminating feature of the forty-third national encampment. Many military bands and fife and drum corps made the music to which the old warriors kept step. The procession formed at Eagle Gate, which is one of Salt Lake City's many picturesque features.

At the word of command the parade marched west on Main street and turned south down that thoroughfare, proceeding seven blocks between solid walls of cheering men, women and children. As the grizzled veterans passed the enthusiasm was tremendous and many a spectator wept unashamed as he realized that this was undoubtedly the last grand review for scores of the feeble heroes who trudged along with eyes on the flag for which they had given some of the best years of their lives.

When Seventh South street was reached the paraders themselves broke out in mighty cheering, for there they turned in front of the most beautiful feature of the day, the "Living and the children singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The great review was excellently managed in every way. All along the line of march were scattered ambulances, trained nurses and numerous other attendants to care for any of the veterans who might be overcome by fatigue and for spectators who suffered in the crush on the sidewalks. Fortunately, their services were seldom needed.

Fine Pyrotechnic Display.

After a good rest, the city's guests all turned out again this evening and witnessed the magnificent display of fireworks on the top of Ensign peak. This peak lies immediately north of the city and is the highest point of the Wasatch mountains, rising 1,200 feet higher than Temple square. The pyrotechnic display is a mighty feature of the encampment week.

Salt Lake City has thrown open her arms to the old soldiers, and never has the Grand Army been more enthusiastically received or more generously entertained than at this encampment. Many thousands of the veterans and their families and members of all the organizations allied to the Grand Army have participated in the exercises and entertainments, and are unanimous in their praise of the treatment they have received.

Well Managed Encampment.

The old soldiers have been very carefully looked after by the local committee on public comfort and private accommodations, and at the 24 information bureaus at the various railway stations and convenient places about the city. During the entire time of the encampment these committees have had the services of 300 high school cadets, whose duties have been to render every possible assistance to the visitors.

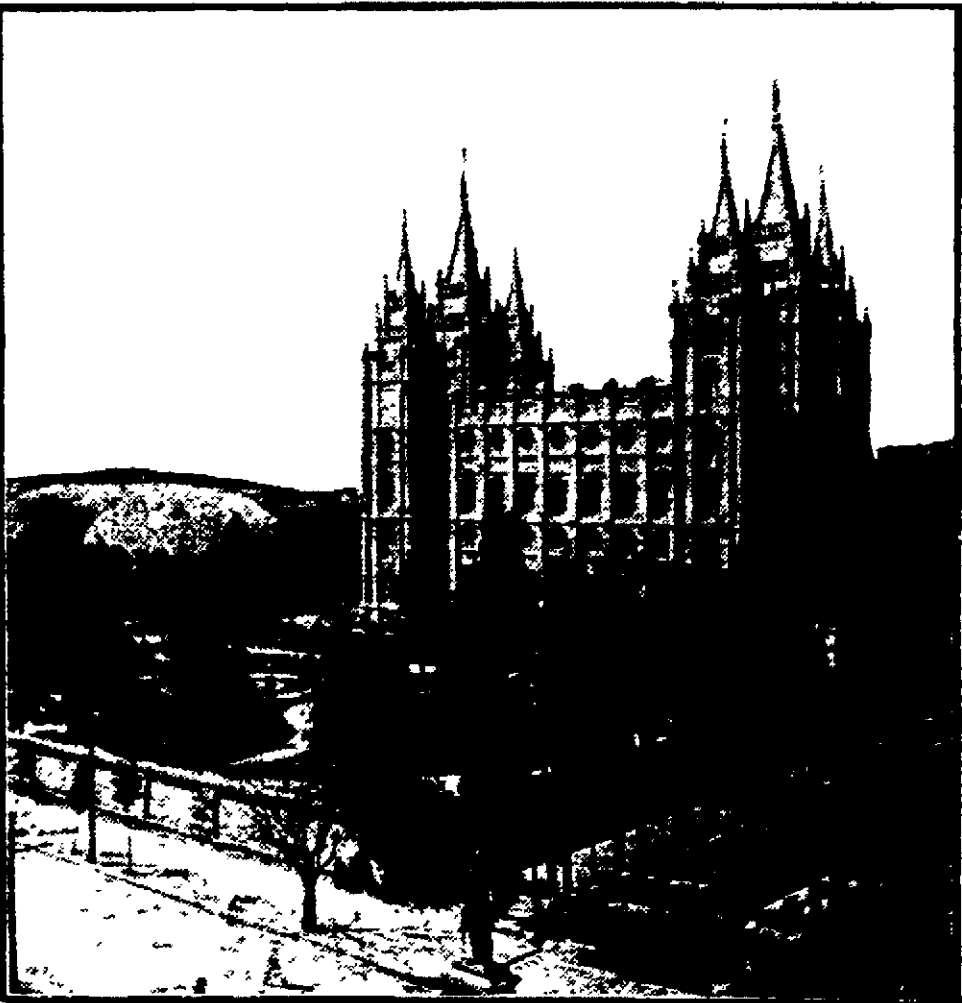

Henry M. Nevius, the commander-in-chief, arrived here Saturday with his staff and inspected the arrangements. On Sunday the city's guests began arriving by the thousand, and on Monday they came in so fast that the committee had to work like sailors to get them all housed in such a manner as to avoid congestion in any part of the city.

Big "Greetings" Meeting.

Monday evening came the first public event on the program—a great camp-fire in the assembly hall in the Temple grounds. All that night and throughout Tuesday the stream of arrivals continued, but by Tuesday evening practically all the visitors had been received and distributed. That night the greatest function of the encampment took place. This was the "Greetings" meeting in the Mormon Tabernacle. The immense building easily seats 10,000 persons, and it was filled to its capacity.

Col. Frank M. Starrett, the executive director of the encampment, called the vast assemblage to order and introduced William H. King of Salt Lake City, who acted as temporary chairman. He made a brief address and was followed by Gov. William Spry of Utah, Mayor John S. Bradford of Salt Lake City, and L. H. Smythe, commander of the department of Utah, all of whom told in eloquent words how proud they were to welcome to the state and city the Grand Army and their friends.

Mr. King then introduced Commander-in-Chief Nevius, who was received with wild cheering and the waving ing flag." On an immense stand were 2,000 children dressed in the national colors and so arranged that they made a perfect representation of a waving American flag.

The little ones had been drilled for many weeks, and while the old soldiers passed they sang patriotic airs.

Reviewed by Notables.

Counter-marching, the parade now moved north on Main street back to South Temple street. Here, just to the left of the Brigham Young pioneer monument and close to Temple square, the reviewing stand had been erected. It was occupied by Commander-in-Chief Henry M. Nevius, Gov. William Spry of Utah, the chief executive of other states and a large number of other officials and distinguished guests. The parading bodies all passed in review, saluting those in the stand, and at once disbanded. All the bands as they arrived here were massed close to the stand and as the culmination of the parade, 4,000 school children marched by, the united bands of hats and handkerchiefs. As soon as the tumult had subsided, Commander Nevius delivered a graceful response to the welcoming speeches and took the chair.

Then came the turn of the allied organizations and greetings to the veterans were uttered by President Genevieve Hagar Longfield Lane of the Ladies of the G. A. R., President Mary E. Gilman of the Woman's Relief Corps, President Clara E. Hoover of the Daughters of Veterans, Commander-in-Chief Edgar Allen of the Sons of Veterans, and President Rebecca Smith of the Army Nurses. The speechmaking was varied by the playing of patriotic airs by a band.

The exercises were brought to a close by the presentation of a handsome testimonial to Charles G. Burton, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army.

The last three days of the encampment are, as usual, given up mainly to business sessions of the various organizations and election of officers.

In Serge and Linen

SERGE Costume—This costume is useful and smart in navy-blue serge. The seams of skirt are wrapped and stitched on the right side; the jacket is semi-fitting, and is trimmed with black mohair braid of two widths, and braid-covered buttons; the collar is faced with silk. The fronts just meet, and are hooked on the bust, each side being trimmed with a silk ornament.

Black crinoline hat, trimmed with white roses and green leaves. Materials required: Eight yards 48 inches wide, 5 yards sateen for skirt lining, 5½ yards silk for jacket lining, ¼ yard silk for collar, about 8 yards wide braid, 28 buttons.

Linen-Dress—The skirt and over-bodice of this dress are in dark brown linen. The skirt is in a very smart shape, with panel effect front and back that is continued from the back into a deep waist-band. The over-bodice is cut up in deep tabs that are buttoned to the waist-band, buttons also form a trimming at back and front. The under-bodice is of white cotton, spotted with brown. The yoke and sleeves are tucked; the high collar and wrists of sleeves are finished with pleated lace.

Hat of brown coarse straw, trimmed with shaded ostrich feathers. Materials required for the skirt and over-bodice: Six yards 42 inches wide, 13 buttons.

FASHION'S DECREE IN GLOVES

Models for All Occasions Are Displayed, and Most of Them Are Attractive.

Gloves especially adapted for tennis playing girls are of one button length in white or yellow chambray, a material which will not only withstand boiling but become softer and more flexible with every laundering.

The most practical gloves for golfing are the mousquetaires of colored mocha, which come with quite long wrists. For driving and riding there is nothing quite so smart as the white leather gloves with black buttons, stitching and gauntlets.

Tan, mode, white and black gloves for the street are of fine French glace kid in three and six button lengths and of finely spun silk, with double finger tips and composition clasp fastenings.

Young girls' summer party gloves are of white or delicately tinted twisted silk in elbow lengths. They are seamless, the thumbs hemstitched and some of them are exquisitely embroidered.

ELABORATE MILLINERY.

Hat of silver gray chip lined with black satin, a long wreath of delicate silver roses shaded by a silver gray aigrette mixed with marabou.

Slippers of Net.

A shoe-maker, in his search for something new, has invented an evening slipper of Russian net over colored satin linings. The heels are colored to match. There is a jeweled buckle at the toe in any appropriate stones.

Cloth of gold slippers are in fashion for all gowns trimmed with gold lace, and some bronze slippers embroidered with beads cost as much as a gown.

There is also a fashion to have the top of boots made of bengaline and cravenette to match the gown.

The shoe absurdities will soon become as famous as the millinery ones.

Glove Mending.

To mend gloves properly, never use silk, as it cuts the kid. Select instead cotton the exact shade of the gloves and with a very fine needle buttonhole around the rip or tear; then catch together on the wrong side, taking one stitch at a time from one loop of the buttonhole stitch to another. When the rent is joined in this way it is scarcely perceptible and wears longer than if sewed through the glove.

SYRIAN WORK MUCH IN FAVOR

Popular Type of Embroidery That Is Without Rival in Conventional Designs.

A type of embroidery that is specially adapted to conventional designs is the Syrian work, that gives an effect of overlapping scales. The designs which are stamped for this embroidery are divided into sections by lines running at regular intervals across the scrolls and other figures.

The method of working is both simple and rapid. The sections are filled in with a filling cotton and then worked in satin stitch following the growth of scroll. Three sides of section are then outlined so that the design when finished looks as if one scale sprung out of the other.

This is particularly effective for borders or table covers or sofa pillows or the centerpieces made of homespun linen used on tables between meals.

As the embroidery is done in Turkish floss or other heavy, glossy silk suitable for large designs, it works up quickly, yet has a handsome solid surface. There is room for infinite variety of shadings but it is well to keep the designs if possible in several tones of the same color. Thus a line of reds makes an attractive coloring or old blue Chinese greens and yellow verging to orange.

Care of the Skin.

When the skin is delicate and inclined to chafe from heat talcum powder may be used profusely. For this a big, soft puff is the best for the body and the dust should be thick enough to form a layer over the flesh. Several times a day and always after bathing, it must be put on. Any kind of powder answers the purpose—magnesia, French chalk, arrow root, etc. The point is to use enough. Cream of tartar water is as cooling as soda and is mixed in the same way. Sometimes only a combination of grease and powder will allay severe inflammation. For instance, carbolyzed vaseline, although it stings when first put on, is particularly good for such cases, being healing as well as soothing. Care must be taken to have the surface clean before it is applied and then powder in large quantity may be dusted on. Repeating these layers three or four times will make a paste that will adhere for many hours and is useful for the occasion when one is unable to renew the application.

Convenient.

If you will take a strip of burlap, ticking or any stout goods, and tack it in the closet you will find it most convenient for pinning skirts to. A piece a yard and a half long will be heavy enough to pin a half-dozen skirts to. Florists' pins are useful in attaching dresses to the strip or safety pins can be used.

Bottled Feathers.

The best way to keep plumes, especially nice ones, from one season to another is to place them in glass jars, fastening the cover securely. If white ones are put away in this manner sprinkle them with magnesia and when removed for use they will be light, clean and as fluffy as when new.

STATE NEWS

Oshkosh.—Judge Fowler of Fond du Lac has reversed the decision of Judge Cleveland of the Winnebago county probate court in the matter of the will of the late Allen Battis. The will provided a legacy of $10,000 for the divorced wife of Battis, who is Mrs. Frances Mae Mantoba. The principal heir, Martin T. Battis of this city, contested the will and Judge Cleveland decided that Mrs. Mantoba was not entitled to the legacy, having received a settlement at the time of the divorce. Judge Fowler, however, claims that there is nothing in the law to prevent the legacy and that she is entitled to it. The total estate left by the deceased was about $60,000.

Madison.—The Master Painters' and Decorators' convention closed its annual session here, after electing the following officers: President, F. W. Putke, Beloit; vice-president, B. F. Mauts, Madison; secretary and treasurer, Leonard Forester, Milwaukee; executive board, Frank Augesky, Lake Geneva, J. C. Young, Burlington; Anthony Johnson, La Crosse; Otto Zieth, Marinette; Charles Jaenecke, Oshkosh. Oshkosh was chosen as the place for the next convention.

Madison.—Choosing the place for the 1910 convention and electing officers for the ensuing year constituted the final business of the Wisconsin State Firemen's association. La Crosse had no rivals for the next convention. The following officers were elected: President, John J. Hennessey, Milwaukee; vice-president, H. A. Eiserman, Kenosha; secretary, Ole Norman, Superior; treasurer, J. H. Kratz, Manitowoc.

New Richmond.—The toll of the storm shows a loss of $10,000 in the country about here. In one barn that was destroyed six horses were burned to death. In another three horses, standing beside their mates in different stalls were killed. The lightning missed one horse in each stall. At Bryan, Dean's farm, 16 cattle were killed. One hundred telephones were put out of commission.

La Crosse.—The disposal of the estate of Rev. Dr. W. D. Thomas, consisting of a $2,000 insurance policy, a library worth from $6,000 to $8,000, and other property, depends upon the finding of the original of a photograph taken 40 years ago. The photograph represents Dr. Thomas in his young manhood with a young girl standing beside him.

Beloit.—Beloit church and business circles are considerably aroused over the apparent disappearance of John Gaard from whom nothing has been heard since he disposed of his business here and left the city several weeks ago. His property interests which are extensive, are being looked after by church friends.

Monroe.—Simon Gerber caught his three-year-old son, John, in the sickle of a binder he was driving. The boy had the right leg cut off between the knee and the angle and the pointed blades cut into the left leg at about the same place and reached half through the bone. The child died a few hours later.

Oshkosh.—William Peterson of Neenah entered a plea of nolle contendere in the case charging him with violation of the state law regarding pure foods. He was fined $25 and costs. Peterson is a Neenah grocer, charged with selling lemon extract which was falsely labeled.

Fond du Lac.—Thomas E. Dockery, former president of the common council, former president of the school board and prominent real estate man, was arrested on a charge of bribery in connection with a paving contract awarded while he was a city official.

La Crosse.—In a heavy storm here Joseph Dvorak, a workman in the employ of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway, was struck by lightning and killed. The storm was unusually severe and washouts have occurred on all the railroads.

La Crosse.—By a unanimous vote the members of the Caledonia Street Methodist church, through the board of trustees, has extended an invitation to Rev. A. V. Ingham to remain for another year as pastor of the church.

Chilton.—Last week John Hall of this city was bitten by a dog, which died a few days after. The dog's head was sent to Madison and was found to be afflicted with hydrophobia.

Waupaca.—The reunion of the Tenth Wisconsin volunteers will be held at Waupaca August 26 and 27. On both days at the Wisconsin Veterans' home campfires will be held.

Reedsburg.—A heavy rain all day broke a drought of five weeks and will prove of inestimable value to crops, but prevented any racing at the Reedsburg fair.

Chippewa Falls.—The revised figures of the board of review make the whole value of the taxable property $4,521,353.29, which is $11,698.29 more than last year.

Madison.—David H. Davies of Milwaukee was appointed by Gov. Davidson state treasury agent to succeed Edward Pollock of Lancaster, who had held the office for the last four years.

Sparta.—While pronouncing grace at the supper table, Fred Stark of Big Creek was seized with heart failure. He was one of the oldest residents of the county, 80 years of age.

New Richmond.—New Richmond's first annual home-coming will be held during the third week of September in connection with the tenth annual fair.

Severe.

Samuel Gompers was talking in the smokeroom of the Baltic about a recent newspaper attack on a rich corporation.

"It was a cruel attack," Mr. Gompers chuckled. "It was as cruel as the Jonesville Clarion's paragraph about old Deacon Hiram Ludlow."

"This paragraph headed the Clarion's obituary column. It said:

"Deacon Hiram Ludlow of Frisbie township, aged 82, passed peacefully away on Thursday last from single blessedness to matrimonial bliss after a short but severe attack by Maria Higgins, a blooming widow of 37 summers."—Detroit Journal.

The Newer Way.

Many ideas in regard to women have entirely changed, and among the better and wiser changes is that old thought that the women who were given to good works must needs be dowdy. It is undeniable that "good" women used to wear dowdiness as a sort of hall mark of virtue. As a matter of fact, dowdiness is merely a mark of bad taste and a sign of some lack in the mind. Women are no longer lacking in the wisdom that chooses pretty rather than ugly clothing, and those who do not make the best of their appearance are losing a golden opportunity of giving pleasure.

A Realist.

"I am a great believer in realism," remarked the poet.
"Yes?" we queried with a rising inflection, thereby giving him the desired opening.

"I sometimes carry my ideas of realism to a ridiculous extreme," continued the poet.

"Indeed!" we exclaimed inanely, somewhat impatient to reach the point of his witticism.

"Yes," continued the poet, "the other day I wrote a sonnet to the gas company and purposely made the meter defective."

At this point we fainted.

Look at the Names.

In 4 A. D. Fearaidhach-Fionashtna was an Irish king, a "most just and good prince," who was slain by his successor, Fiachadh-Fion, who was treated to a similar fate by Fiachadh-Fionohudh, "the prince with the white cows," who died at the hands of "the Irish plebeians of Connaught." Eochair-Moidmheadhain was one of the half dozen who died of natural causes, and Flathheartagh was one of the two to resign the monarch's scepter for the monk's cowl.—New York Press.

BAD DREAMS Caused by Coffee.

"I have been a coffee drinker, more or less, ever since I can remember, until a few months ago I became more and more nervous and irritable, and finally I could not sleep at night for I was horribly disturbed by dreams of all sorts and a species of distressing nightmare.

"Finally, after hearing the experience of numbers of friends who had quit coffee and were drinking Postum, and learning of the great benefits they had derived, I concluded coffee must be the cause of my trouble, so I got some Postum and had it made strictly according to directions.

"I was astonished at the flavour and taste. It entirely took the place of coffee, and to my very great satisfaction, I began to sleep peacefully and sweetly. My nerves improved, and I wish I could wear every man, woman and child from the unwholesome drug—ordinary coffee.

"People really do not appreciate or realize what a powerful drug it is and what terrible effect it has on the human system. If they did, hardly a pound of it would be sold. I would never think of going back to coffee again. I would almost as soon think of putting my hand in a fire after I had once been burned.

"A young lady friend of ours had stomach trouble for a long time, and could not get well as long as she used coffee. She finally quit coffee and began the use of Postum and is now perfectly well. Yours for health."

A Word of Hope for Despairing Ones

Kidney trouble makes weak, weary, worn women. Backache, hip pains, dizziness, headaches, nervousness, languor, urinary troubles make women suffer untold misery. Ailing kidneys are the cause. Cure them. Mrs. S. D. Ellison, N. Broadway, Lamar, Mo., says: "Kidney trouble wore me down till I had to take to bed. I had terrible pains in my body and limbs and the urine was annoying and full of sediment. I got worse and doctors failed to help. I was discouraged. Doan's Kidney Pills brought quick relief and a final cure and now I am in the best of health."

A PROPOSAL

Mr. Hardup—Good morning, Miss Aughtum—ahem! There is something I have been wishing to ask you for some time, but—er—the fact is, I haven't been able to screw up enough courage to—er—come to the point.

Miss Aughtum—A proposal at last!

Mr. Hardup—Could you, my dear Miss Aughtum—could you lend me five dollars?

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA.

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Bleeding, Torturing Humor—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

In Despair; Cured by Cuticura.

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

The Artless Boy.

The boy bowed politely to the grocer.

"I understand," he said, "that you want a boy, sir. Will you kindly look me over."

"I only pay $3," said the grocer, abruptly.

"I understood," said the boy, "that you paid four."

The grocer nodded.

"I did pay four," he said, "until I saw in the paper the other day that Millionaire Rogers began his business career on $3 a week."

The boy smiled.

"But I don't expect to be a millionaire," he said. "I don't care to be rich—I'd much rather be good."

The grocer was so much pleased with this artless reply that he compromised with the boy for three and a half.

And Ma Fainted.

"Why did she refuse you?" she asked her son, with fine scorn.

"Well," the boy replied between his sobs, "she objects to our family. She says pa's a loafer, that you're too fat and that everybody laughs at Daisey Mayme because she's a fool and talks about nothing but the greatness of her family." (Chauncey threw water in his mother's face, but at three o'clock this afternoon she was still in a swoon, with four doctors working on her.)—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

His Colors.

"What are your son's college colors?"

"Well," answered Farmer Cornstossel, "Josh has figured so strong in hazing and football, I should say they must be black and blue."

FARM AND GARDEN

MAKE FARM HOMES TASTEFUL

Practical Suggestions for Beautifying Country Residences in Any Locality.

Farming differs from every other sort of business in this, that the farm is not merely a factory and a place of business, but it is the home of the family, writes Prof. F. A. Waugh, of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, in Orange Judd Farmer. The importance of the farm as the home establishment is much greater than its importance as a place of business; and this makes it imperative that the place should be supplied with every available comfort and made attractive with every sort of beauty which substantial good taste can suggest.

The ordinary schemes of landscape gardening are not very suitable to the common farm. This is largely because the ambitious landscape gardeners do not sufficiently consider the use of the farm as a factory and a place of business. The best that can be done in most cases is for the farmer, his wife and other advisers, to develop the grounds to the best of their own judgment and in the light of actual requirements. A few suggestions from the standpoint of a landscape gardener, who is at the same time himself a farmer, may be of some assistance in this direction.

Simplicity is the keynote of good taste in everything. Therefore, let the design of the farm grounds be very simple. Do not try anything elaborate. Do not make the place look cluttered.

Have a good lawn. Nothing is more tasteful and satisfactory than good, clean, green grass. Even if the lawn is not very large and not elaborately graded, it will still be the most attractive part of the place. Have a few good trees. Nothing is more attractive about a farmhouse, with the possible exception of lawn grass, than large, dignified, noble trees.

For shrubs and other ornamental plants, use native species. The common native shrubs and plants are among the best of all ornamental materials.

If flower beds are desired, put them at the side or rear of the house, preferably in connection with the vegetable garden. Flower beds are usually a nuisance on the front lawn, and nearly always inappropriate about a farmhouse.

Keep the front yard separate from the back yard. Everyone will readily remember a great many farms where this simple injunction is highly disregarded. It is not unusual to find a milk wagon or a chicken coop or hay rack left in the front yard of a farmhouse. Such things do not belong there.

Have some space about the house so arranged that it can be used for living and playing. We do not live out of doors as much in this country as we ought to. This statement applies even to farm families. A suitably built open porch, paved court, or clean grass plat, makes a delightful place for serving meals. Very often it is pleasanter to eat out of doors than in the house; and if definite plans are made, this is much easier than might be supposed. There should also be room in the garden for playing croquet, a secluded and shady spot where one can sit down to read or sew; and if the women of the house wish to give a party on the lawn, there should be every opportunity for it.

Keep the place clean and tidy. This is final evidence of good taste and an absolutely necessary condition in every circumstance.

Value of Manure.

Keep hauling manure out on the land as fast as it is made. It is of as much value to put it on the plowed ground as it is to plow it under. Harrowed well into the surface, it not only furnishes ready plant food, but serves as a mulch for holding moisture in dry weather. It may be scattered on corn ground to advantage all through the corn growing season as long as the wagon can be hauled down the corn rows. Cultivation will spread it and mix it with the soil and rains will dissolve out the richness and carry into the roots of the corn.

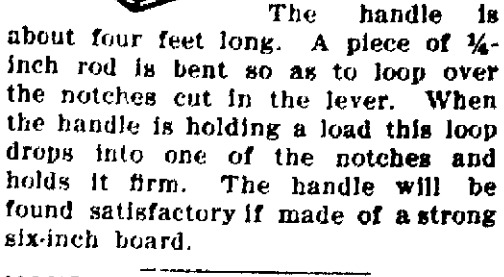

Rural Telephone a Success.

The rural telephone has come to be a practical farm utility, often paying for itself ten times over in one year. Man has long been trying to overcome time and space, and he has practically accomplished the result by the use of the telephone. Life in the country is not so slow with a telephone in your house and in the house of every neighbor.

HOW TO MAKE A WAGON JACK

Illustration and Directions for Constructing One That Will Be Useful to Any Farmer.

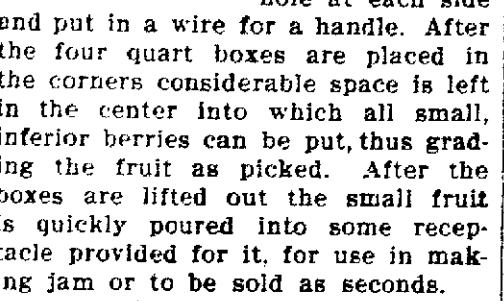

The base for this wagon jack is 12 feet long, being made of a piece of plank. The standards are 22 inches long, fastened to a 2x4, which is mortised into the plank between the standards. The handle is about four feet long. A piece of 1/4-inch rod is bent so as to loop over the notches cut in the lever. When the handle is holding a load this loop drops into one of the notches and holds it firm. The handle will be found satisfactory if made of a strong six-inch board.

HANDY BERRY-PICKING CRATE

Two Baskets, Each Containing Four Quart Boxes, Can Be Made from Five-Gallon Oil Can.

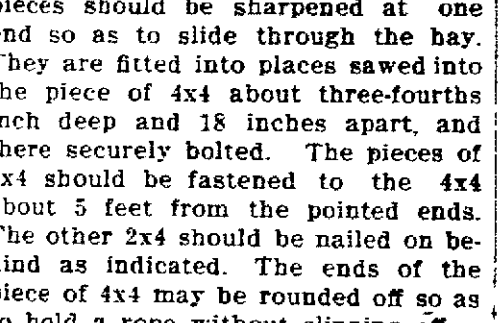

Two picking baskets, each holding four quart boxes and having space in the center for culls, can be made from one of the square five-gallon oil cans in which coal oil is sold. Cut the can in two through the center, lengthwise, punch a hole at each side and put in a wire for a handle. After the four quart boxes are placed in the corners considerable space is left in the center into which all small, inferior berries can be put, thus grading the fruit as picked. After the boxes are lifted out the small fruit is quickly poured into some receptacle provided for it, for use in making jam or to be sold as seconds.

SWEEP FOR HAULING IN HAY.

One Can Be Made of a Few Pieces of Lumber That Will Carry a Large Load to Stack.

Use one piece 4x4 lumber 12 feet long and six pieces of 2x4, 7 feet long in making the sweep shown in the accompanying illustration. Five of these 2x4 pieces should be sharpened at one end so as to slide through the hay. They are fitted into places sawed into the piece of 4x4 about three-fourths inch deep and 18 inches apart, and there securely bolted. The pieces of 2x4 should be fastened to the 4x4 about 5 feet from the pointed ends. The other 2x4 should be nailed on behind as indicated. The ends of the piece of 4x4 may be rounded off so as to hold a rope without slipping off.

A large load may be brought to the stack in this way, saving much time and labor.

CULTURE OF THE CABBAGE.

Should Be Planted on New Ground to Avoid Maggot Pest; How to Set Out.

Although it does not follow that planting on new ground will secure exemption from cabbage maggot attack, yet such is the tendency, and hence it will be well to plant or sow this crop as far as possible from any field infested the previous season. The adult flies do not travel far under normal conditions, and if they find shelter near their place of hatching are likely to hang around that place, and they will accept any substitute wild plant rather than fly to distant points hunting for cultivated plants.

The farther the plants are grown from previously infested areas the more apt they will be to remain free from attack, as a rule, and yet even in new ground, especially near a woods or in a sheltered situation, they sometimes become more or less infested. It is probable that in such cases there are wild cruciferous plants in the neighborhood in which the insects have been breeding or sheltered in which the flies have hibernated, and it further emphasizes that no matter where the crop is grown a close watch should be kept for the insect, and when once noted active measures should be begun at once. Likewise, avoid planting such crops on ground infested the previous season and follow such infested plots with some other cruciferous plants.

When cabbage and cauliflower plants are set out the soil should be tightly pressed around the stem of the plant at the surface, and the soil itself should be pressed down smooth, flat and firmly. The newly hatched maggot is feeble, and if it fails to get under cover promptly it is killed by the sun or falls victim to some of the prowling predatory insects continually on the lookout for food. On heavy soils this in itself affords a large measure of protection, and plants on such soils are not so much attacked. On lighter sandy soils it will be less useful, but will add to the difficulties of the maggot in establishing himself.

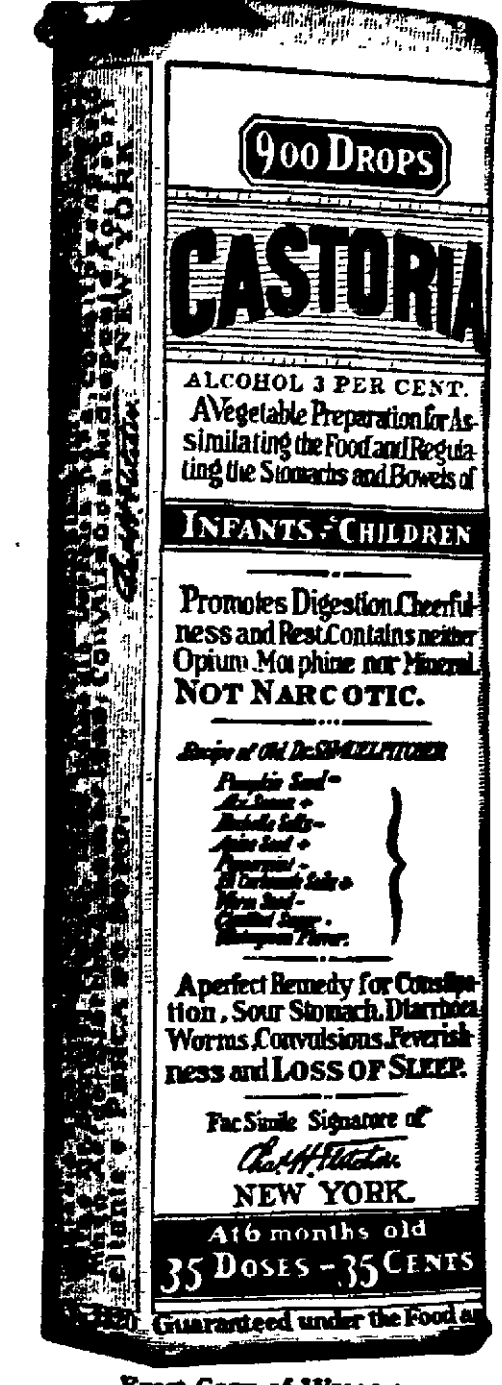

Make Permanent Improvements.

Every farmer should aim at permanent improvements. There is no structural or building material equal to concrete for plasticity, beauty and durability. Furthermore, it is exceedingly cheap, considering its lasting qualities. There is no end to the useful things for which it may be used. Haul sand and gravel every spare day you can, and during spare time of late summer and fall buy good cement and build something that, like the pyramids, will stand for all time.

THE PRIMITIVE

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with the shipwreck of the steamer on which Miss Genevieve Leslie, an American heiress, Lord Winthrop, an Englishman, and Tom Blake, a brusque American, were passengers. The three were tossed upon an uninhabited island and Leslie, the only one not drowned, Blake recovered from a drunken stupor, and Winthrop, the last to be rescued, became a hero as preserver of the helpless pair. The Englishman was suing the hand of Miss Leslie. Blake stepped to the swim back to the ship to recover what was left. Blake returned safely. Winthrop wasted his last strength on a cigarette for which he was scolded by Blake. Their first meal was a dead fish. The trio started a ten mile hike for higher land. Thirst attacked them. Blake was compelled to carry Miss Leslie on account of weariness. He taunted Winthrop. They entered the jungle.

"You'd find those thorns a whole lot worse," muttered Blake.

"To be sure; and Miss Leslie fully appreciates your kindness," interposed Winthrop.

"I do indeed, Mr. Blake! I'm sure I never could go through here without your coat."

"That's all right. Got the handkerchief?"

"I put it in one of the pockets."

"I'll do to tie up your hair."

Miss Leslie took the suggestion, knotting the big square of linen over her fluffy brown hair.

Blake waited only for her to draw out the kerchief before he began to force a way through the tangled vegetation with his club. Though he held to the line by which he had left the thicket, yet all his efforts failed to open an easy passage for the others. Many of the thorny branches struck back into place behind him, and as Miss Leslie, who was the first to follow, sought to thrust them aside the thorns pierced her delicate skin until her hands were covered with blood. Nor did Winthrop, stumbling and hobbling behind her, fare any better. Twice he tripped headlong into the brush, scratching his arms and face.

Blake took his own punishment as a matter of course, though his tougher and thicker skin made his injuries less painful. He advanced steadily along the line of bent and broken twigs that marked his outward passage, until the thicket opened on a strip of grassy ground beneath a wild fig-tree.

"By Jove!" exclaimed Winthrop, "a banyan!"

"Banyan? Well, if that's British for a jaisy, you've hit it," responded Blake. "Just take a squint up here. How's that for a roost?"

Winthrop and Miss Leslie stared up dubiously at the edge of a bed of reeds gathered in the hollow of one of the huge flattened branches at its junction with the main trunk of the banyan, 20 feet above them.

"Will not the mosquitoes pester us here among the trees?" objected Winthrop.

"Storm must have blown 'em away. I haven't seen any yet."

"There will be millions after sunset."

"Maybe; but I bet they keep below our roost."

"But how are we to get up so high?" inquired Miss Leslie.

"I can swarm this drop root, and I've a creeper ready for you two," explained Blake.

Snatching to words, he climbed up the small trunk of the air root and swung over into the hollow where he had piled the reeds. Across the broad limb dangled a rope-like creeper, one end of which he had fastened to a branch higher up. He flung down the free end to Winthrop.

"Look lively, Pat," he called. "The sun's most gone, and twilight don't last all night in these parts. Get the line around Miss Leslie, and do what you can on a boost."

"I see; but, you know, the vine is too stiff to tie."

Blake stifled an oath and jerked the end of the creeper up into his hand. When he threw it down again it was looped around and fastened in a bow-line knot.

"Now, Miss Leslie, get aboard and we'll have you up in a jiffy," he said.

"Are you sure you can lift me?" asked the girl, as Winthrop slipped the loop over her shoulders.

Blake laughed down at them. "Well, I guess yes! Once hoisted a fellow out of a 50-foot prospect hole—big fat Dutchman at that. You don't weigh over 120."

He had stretched out across the broadest part of the branch. As Miss Leslie seated herself in the loop he reached down and began to haul up on the creeper, hand over hand. Though frightened by the novel manner of ascent the girl clung tightly to the line above her head, and Blake had no difficulty in raising her until she swung directly beneath him. Here, however, he found himself in a quandary. The girl seemed as helpless as a child, and he was lying flat. How could he lift her above the level of the branch?

"Take hold the other line," he said. "The girl hesitated. 'Do you hear? Grab it quick, and pull up hard if you don't want a tumble!'"

The girl seized the part of the creeper which was fastened above and drew herself up with convulsive energy. Instantly Blake rose to his knees, and grasping the last creeper with one hand reached down with the other to swing the girl up beside him on the branch.

"It's Only a Beast That's Killed Something Down Below."

"All right, Miss Jenny," he reassured her as he felt her tremble. "Sorry to scare you, but I couldn't have made it without. Now, if you'll just hold down my legs we'll soon hoist his ludship."

He had seated her in the broadest part of the shallow hollow, where the branch joined the main trunk of the fig. Heaped with the reeds which he had gathered during the afternoon it made such a cozy shelter that she at once forgot her dizziness and leaned over and pressed down on his ankles with all her strength.

The loose end of the creeper had fallen to the ground when Blake lifted her upon the branch and Winthrop was already slipping into the loop. Blake ordered him to take it off and send up the club. As the creeper was again flung down a black shadow swept over the jungle.

"Hello! Sunset!" called Blake.

"Look sharp, there!"

"All ready," responded Winthrop.

Blake drew in a full breath, and began to hoist. The position was an awkward one, and Winthrop weighed 30 or 40 pounds more than Miss Leslie. But as the Englishman came within reach of the descending loop he grasped it and did what he could to ease Blake's efforts. A few moments found him as high above the ground as Blake could raise him. Without waiting for orders, he swung himself upon the upper part of the creeper and climbed the last few feet unaided. Blake grunted with satisfaction as he pulled him in upon the branch.

"You may do, after all," he said. "At any rate, we're all aboard for the night; and none too soon. Hear that?"

"What?"

"Lion, I guess—Not that yelping. Listen!"

The brief twilight was already fading into the darkness of a moonless night, and as the three crouched together in their shallow nest they were soon made audibly aware of the savage nature of their surroundings. With the gathering night the jungle wakened into full life. From all sides came the harsh squawking of birds, the weird cries of monkeys and other small creatures, the crash of heavy animals moving through the jungle, and above all the yelp and howl and roar of beasts of prey.

After some contention with Winthrop, Blake conceded that the roars of his lion might be nothing worse than the snorting of the hippopotami as they came out to browse for the night. In this, however, there was small comfort, since Winthrop presently reassured his belief in the rebbing ability of leopards, and expressed his opinion that, whether or not there were lions in the neighborhood, certain of the barking roars they could hear came from the throats of the spotted climbers. Even Blake's hair bristled as his imagination pictured one of the great cats creeping upon them in the darkness from the far end of their nest limb, or leaping down out of the upper branches.

The nerves of all three were at their highest tension when a dark form swept past through the air within a yard of their faces. Miss Leslie uttered a stifled scream and Blake brandished his club. But Winthrop, who had caught a glimpse of the creature's shape, broke into a nervous laugh.

"It's only a fruit bat," he explained. "They feed on the banyan," he explained. "They only on the banyan," he explained.

In the reaction from this false alarm, both men relaxed and began to yield to the effects of the tramp across the mud-flats. Arranging the reeds as best they could they stretched out on either side of Miss Leslie and fell asleep in the middle of an argument on how the prospective leopard was mostly likely to attack.

Miss Leslie remained awake for two or three hours longer. Naturally she was more nervous than her companions, and she had been refreshed by her afternoon's nap. Her nervousness was not entirely due to the wild beasts. Though Blake had taken pains to secure himself and his companions in loops of the creeper, fastened to the branch above, Winthrop moved about so restlessly in his sleep that the girl feared he would roll from the hollow.

At last her limbs became so cramped that she was compelled to change her position. She leaned back upon her elbow, determined to rise again and maintain her watch the moment she was rested. But sleep was close upon her. There was a lull in the louder noises of the jungle. Her eyes closed, and her head sank lower. In a little time it was lying upon Winthrop's shoulder and she was fast asleep.

As Blake had asserted, the mosquitoes had either been blown away by the cyclone or did not fly to such a height. None came to trouble the exhausted sleepers.

CHAPTER VI.

Man and Gentleman.

NIGHT had almost passed, and all three, soothed by the refreshing coolness which preceded the dawn, were sleeping their soundest, when a sudden fierce roar followed instantly by a piercing squeal caused even Blake to start up in panic. Miss Leslie, too terrified to scream, clung to Winthrop, who crouched on his haunches, little less overcome.

Blake was the first to recover and puzzle out the meaning of the crashing in the jungle and the ferocious growls directly beneath them.

"Lie still," he whispered. "We're all right. It's only a beast that killed something down below us."

All sat listening, and as the noise of the animals in the thicket died away they could hear the beast beneath them tear at the body of its victim.

"The air feels like dawn," whispered Winthrop. "We'll soon be able to see the brute."

"And he us," rejoined Blake. In this both were mistaken. During the brief false dawn they were puzzled by the odd appearance of the ground. The sudden flood of full daylight found them staring down into a dense white fog.

"So they have that here!" muttered Blake—"fever-fog!"

"Beastly shame!" echoed Winthrop. "I'm sure the creature has gone off."

This assertion was met by an outburst of snarls and yells that made all start back and crouch down again in their sheltering hollow. As before Blake was the first to recover.

"Bet you're right," he said. "The big one has gone off, and a pack of these African coyotes are having a scrap over the bones."

"You mean jackals. It sounds like the nasty beast."

"If it wasn't for that fog I'd go down and get our share of the game."

"Would it not be very dangerous, Mr. Blake?" asked Miss Leslie. "What a fearful noise!"

"I've chased coyotes off a calf with a rope; but that's not the proposition. You don't find me fooling around in that sewer gas of a fog. We'll roost right where we are till the sun does for it. We've got enough malaria in us already."

"Will it be long, Blake?" asked Winthrop.

"Huh? Getting hungry this quick? Wait till you've tramped around a week, with nothing to eat but your shoes."

"Surely, Mr. Blake, it will not be so bad!" protested Miss Leslie.

"Sorry, Miss Jenny; but coconut palms don't blow every day, and when those nuts are gone what are we going to do for the next meal?"

"Could we not make bows?" suggested Winthrop. "There seems to be no end of game about."

"Bows—and arrows without points! Neither of us could hit a barn door, anyway."

"We could practice."

"Sure—six weeks' training on air pudding. I can do better with a handful of stones."

"Then we should go at once to the cliffs," said Miss Leslie.

"Now you're talking—and it's Pike Peak or bust for ours. Here's one night to the good; but we won't last many more if we don't get fire. It's flint we're after now."

"Could we not make fire by rubbing sticks?" said Winthrop, recalling his suggestion of the previous morning.

"I've heard that natives have no trouble."

"So've I, and what's more, I've seen 'em do it. Never could make a go of it myself, though."

"But if you remember how it is done we have at least some chance."

"Give you ten to one odds! No; we'll scratch around for a flint good and plenty before we waste time that way."

"The mist is going," observed Miss Leslie.

"That's no lie. Now for our coyotes. Where's my club?"

"They're all left," said Winthrop, peering down. "I can see the ground clearly, and there is not a sign of the beasts."

"There are the bones—what's left of them," added Blake. "It's a small deer, I suppose. Well, here goes."

He threw down his club and dropped the loose end of the creeper after it. As the line straightened he twisted the upper part around his leg and was about to slide to the ground when he remembered Miss Leslie.

"Think you can make it alone?" he asked.

The girl held up her hands, sore and swollen from the lacerations of the thorns. Blake looked at them, frowned, and turned to Winthrop.

"Um! you got it, too, and in the face," he grunted. "How's your ankle?"

Winthrop wriggled his foot about and felt the injured ankle.

"I fancy it is much better," he answered. "There seems to be no swelling, and there is no pain now."

"That's lucky; though it will tune up later. Take a slide, now. We've got to hustle over breakfast and find a way to get over the river."

Examinations by naval experts at sea by wireless telephony as to the sound which will carry the greatest distance at sea develops that a siren under 72 pounds of steam pressure will emit a blast which may be heard 40 miles. Next comes the steam whistle, the sound of which is carried 20 miles. Among the softest sounds which carry a considerable distance is the whistling buoy installed by the lighthouse board, which has frequently been heard a distance of 15 miles.

TROUBLE IN ROYAL PALACE.

Tidings Borne by Amateur Actor Sufficent to Lead Hearers to Expect the Worst.

The Shakespeare club of New Orleans used to give amateur theatrical performances that were distinguished for the local prominence of the actors. Once a social celebrity, with a gorgeous costume, as one of the lords in waiting had only four words to say: "The queen has swooned." As he stepped forward his friends applauded vociferously. Bowing his thanks, he faced the king and said, in a high-pitched voice: "The swoon has queened."

There was a roar of laughter; but he waited patiently, and made another attempt:

"The swoon has queened."

Again the walls trembled and the stage manager said in a voice which could be heard all over the house:

"Come off, you doggoned fool."

But the ambitious amateur refused to surrender, and in a rasping falsetto, as he was assisted off the stage, he screamed: "The coon has swooned."—Success Magazine.

GAVE HER AN IDEA.

Cycle Dealer—Here is a cyclometer I can recommend. It is positively accurate; not at all like some cyclometers, which register two miles, perhaps, where you have only ridden one. Miss de Byke—You haven't any of that kind, have you?

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS.

Unselfishness in Life is the One Thing That Will Transform All Things to Gold.

The moment we set about the task of making every human being we come in contact with better for knowing us—more cheerful, more courageous and with greater faith in the kindness of God and man—that moment we begin to attain the third purpose of life—personal happiness.

Would you possess the magic secret of the alchemist which transforms all things to gold?

It is unselfishness—or, to use a better word, selflessness.

He who goes forth bent upon being always kind, always helpful, in the little daily events of life, will find all skies tinted with gold, all his nights set with stars and unexpected flowers of pleasure springing up in his pathway.

And all his tears shall turn into smiles.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Fitted for the Job. The general consulted the topographical chart. "You understand, colonel," he said, "that this charge on the enemy's fortification necessitates the most reckless disregard for human life?" "I understand, general," the colonel replied. "The forlorn hope that leads the movement will be composed exclusively of amateur chauffeurs."

Prepared for the Worst. "How long had your wife's first husband been dead when you married her?"

"About eight months."

"Only eight months? Don't you think she was in a good deal of a hurry?"

"Oh, I don't know. We had been engaged for nearly two years."

EXACTLY ACCORDING TO RULE.

She Dropped a Knife and Fork, and Sure Enough the Old Saying Came True.

The woman looked at the man and spoke confidently. "Somebody's coming," she said. "I just dropped a knife and fork." The man smiled at a superior way. "Rats," he said, brutally. "That's nothing. I believe you dropped several spoons and a bowl at the same time by the sound."

"All right," said the woman, "you'll see. Somebody's sure to come. To drop a knife means a man's coming, and a fork means a woman."

"And a spoon means children," said the man. "According to that a man and woman with half a dozen children are due—and the bowl—does that stand for a dog?" The woman ignored him.

The evening dragged on. The woman became distinctly uneasy and the man distinctly triumphant.

"I told you so," he said. "It's about bedtime." Then the door bell rang.

The man answered the bell, and into the hall poured a flood of people, led by a tall, austere lady in black, who spoke saying:

"There's been a fire over on Hill street and these poor people have no place to stay. How many will you take for the night?"

"Hey!" called the man to the woman who stood within the library curtains—"how many people can spend the night?"

"How many are there?" she inquired. The austere female answered:

"There are 13 men, 27 women and about 55 children. Of course you can't take—"

"You bet we can't," said the man, hastily. "Give us two of the children—that'll be about enough."

Half an hour later the woman rolled over on her pillow.

"When I dropped that knife and fork," she began.

"Never mind," said the man. "Let's don't talk about it. Suppose you'd dropped a dozen knives and forks."—Galveston News.

Aid Fight Against Tuberculosis.

At the recent meeting of the National Association of Bill Posters, held in Atlanta, Ga., it was decided to donate to the campaign against tuberculosis $1,200,000 worth of publicity. The bill posters in all parts of the United States and Canada will fill the vacant spaces on their 3,500 bill boards with large posters illustrating the ways to prevent and cure consumption. The Poster Printers' association has also granted $200,000 worth of printing and paper for this work. This entire campaign of bill-board publicity will be conducted under the direction of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in co-operation with the National Bill Posters' association.

Your Salary.

The universe pays every man in his own coin; if you smile, it smiles upon you in return; if you frown, you will be frowned at; if you sing, you will be invited into gay company; if you think, you will be entertained by thinkers; and if you love the world and earnestly seek for the good that is therein, you will be surrounded by loving friends, and nature will pour into your lap the treasures of the earth. Censure, criticism and hate, and you will be censured, criticised and hated by your fellow men.—N. W. Zimmerman.
